Hi Bill, Chair was to this year and
Thanks for that I got to know you a lot better from what I can tell you're great I think I know a lot more about you now, miss
I think a lot of more, your fun, kind and pretty!
I think in the future things will be sort of the same

Barb,
Its been a long time since 8th grade in math class. We had some good times back then.
We'll have to have a couple of drinks in Prescott. I'm usually over there shooting pool. I wish you the best of luck in the future for whatever you may do. Friends,

SECONDS TICK BY

Volume 45
Hastings Senior High School
11th & Pine
Hastings, Minnesota

The opening of school finalized a short summer vacation for students at H.H.S. Once students adjusted to a routine school day, they found that time was flying by. Each hour students anxiously watch the seconds tick by.

Activities at H.H.S. become more a part of their everyday life. Participation is very much welcomed.

For residents of Hastings, the installation of the new railroad lift bridge over the Mississippi River gave its tense moments. In one incident, a delay held up 20 barges including the Delta Queen.

SECONDS TICK BY Time Flying

THE CHARLES LEHMAN TUGBOAT was used to position the barges as the new railroad Lift Bridge was rolled onto the barges. The Mississippi River was closed for 60 hours while the bridge was floated into place.

BEFORE THE BELL rings, Ms. Reither gives tomorrow's assignment to her Period 7 Intermediate Writing class.

APPROXIMATELY 100 STUDENTS leave the school each day to attend classes at Rosemount Area Vocational Technical Institute. John Murtaugh returns to the school after attending Graphic Communications at AVTI.

THE BLACKBOARD is used by Sean McGinnis to solve a problem in his Period 7 Advanced Algebra class. Advanced Algebra prepares students for more advanced math classes like Analysis and Calculus.

DURING HOMECOMING WEEK many students participated in the special events each day. Jackie Doffing and Sue Hodorff are two of the many students who participated in the "car contest" and "hat day." Jackie's car being an elephant and Sue's a "Ladybug."

I never, never, ever, ever, never, Done it,
How about you Barb

No I never never ever have tried it!

Krissy

THE END of the day leaves Shelly Endres heading for the buses to go home. Another day has gone by.

STACKING CHAIRS on top of each other is another end of the day job for Home Economics teacher, Ms. Tarnowski.

The End of a School Day

AFTER COMPLETING his assignments in Period 7 Study Hall, Mike Schommer has time to relax and reflect on what's going on after school gets out.

GENERAL BIOLOGY classes here at the high school use microscopes to check on lab experiments. Sophomore Dave Johnson uses his microscope to record data for his report.

CHATTING WITH FRIENDS after getting on the bus, Jane Serres excitedly tells of her days activities.

Well, what exactly does happen at the end of the day? Students with anxiety watching the clock, waiting for that final bell, wondering "Is it ever going to ring."

And in each students mind there is the thought of what exactly will be happening after that final bell sounds.

The school day ends and students make a dash for the door. Now the life outside of school starts.

Student Night Life

Early in the afternoon, students start to plan their Night Life activities. They may be by themselves or with their friends.

Some students will be busy at home studying or working. Others may be at a practice or a play rehearsal. While still others are out at the local "hangouts" partying.

When a game is scheduled in the evening, many students are there for the action and excitement of it.

After work or a game may lead students to McDonald's, Hardee's, Pizza Hut, or Perkins to meet with their friends.

SUNSET OVER the high school indicates that the night life is about to begin—students busy themselves for their scheduled evening activities.

STATISTICIAN Renee Harwood spends her time recording stats for the boys soccer team.

CHEERLEADER Jean Neiderkorn enjoys her evenings on the field cheering on the boys soccer team. Hastings won over Apple Valley 2 to 0.

VARSITY FOOTBALL Cheerleaders Kathy Peterson and Gretchen Truax express their despair while cheering the Raider football team on

RAIDER BACK Paul Curtis walks off the field during the Woodbury—Hastings game Hastings lost in overtime 20 to 14

DURING THE boys soccer game, Renee Harwood and Kim Lundstrom get a chance to watch the game in between recording of the stats.

LOCK AND DAM #2 is a "hangout" for students who have no other place to go to be with their friends

STUDENT LIFE

MORNINGS AT HHS almost always arrive sunny and bright. Sarah Tressel looks into the sun perhaps contemplating the day ahead.

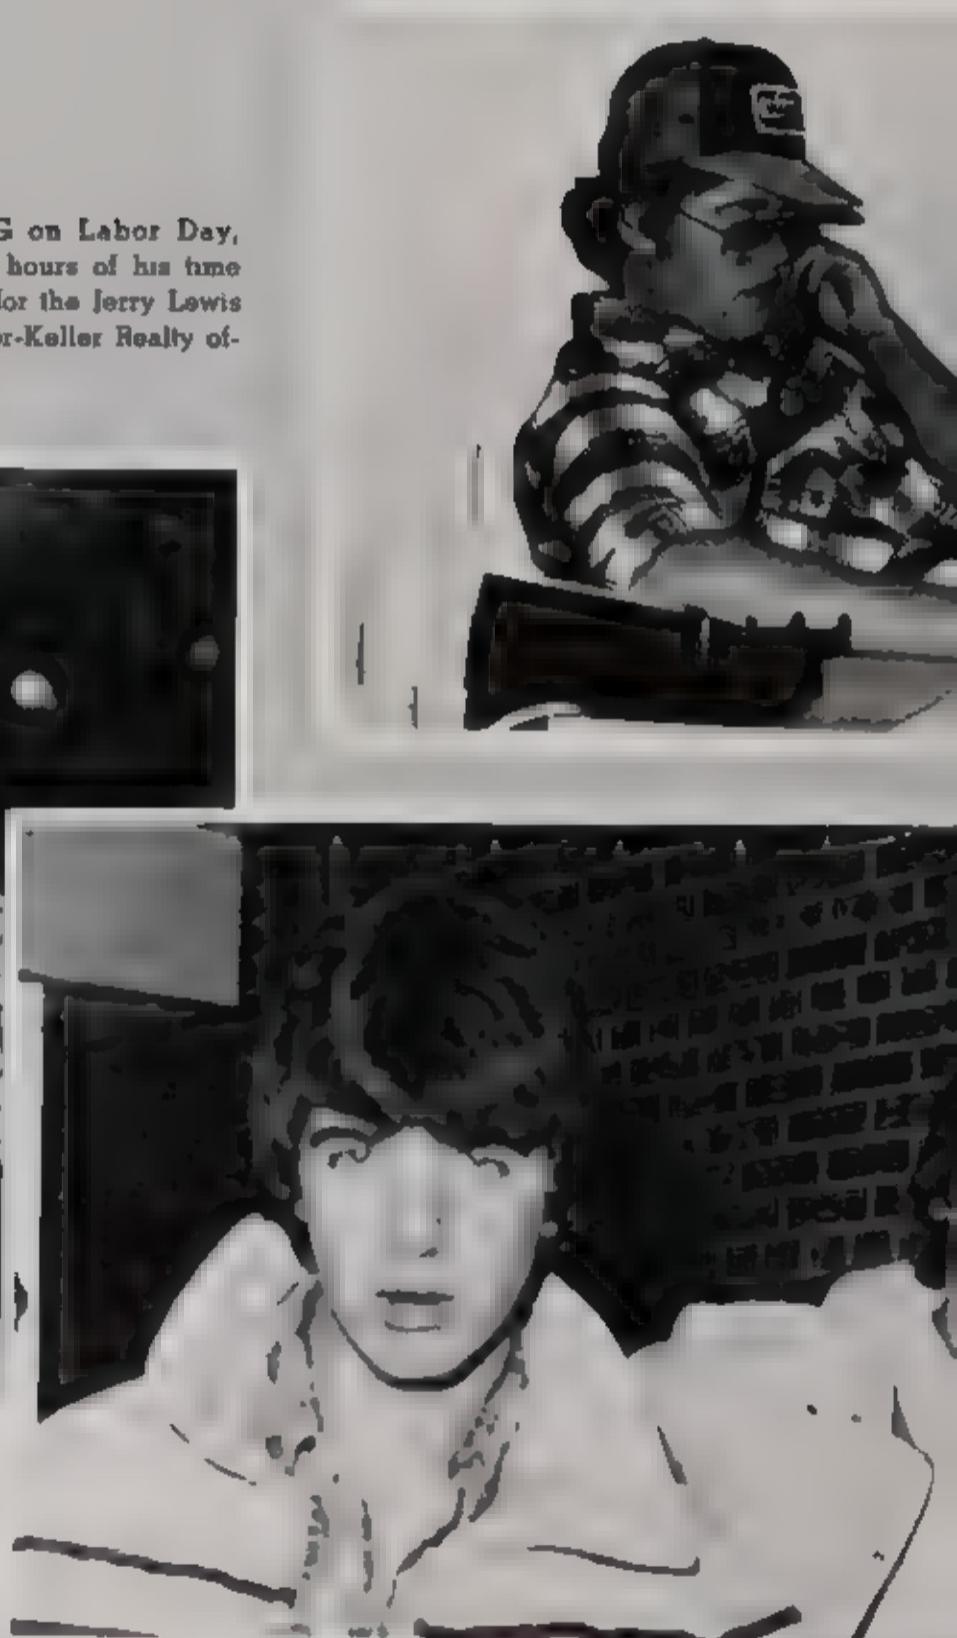

INSTEAD OF PARTYING on Labor Day, Barry Morgan spent three hours of his time to help answer the phone for the Jerry Lewis Telethon in the Schumacher-Keller Realty office.

EXCITEMENT filters through the halls when the final bell rings at the end of seventh hour. Chris Glasenapp and Jim Harp show their relief at finally getting out of school for the day.

This past summer was almost like any other for HHS students. There were those who prided in having found a place of employment along with those who preferred soaking up the sunshine on the hot sands of the beach.

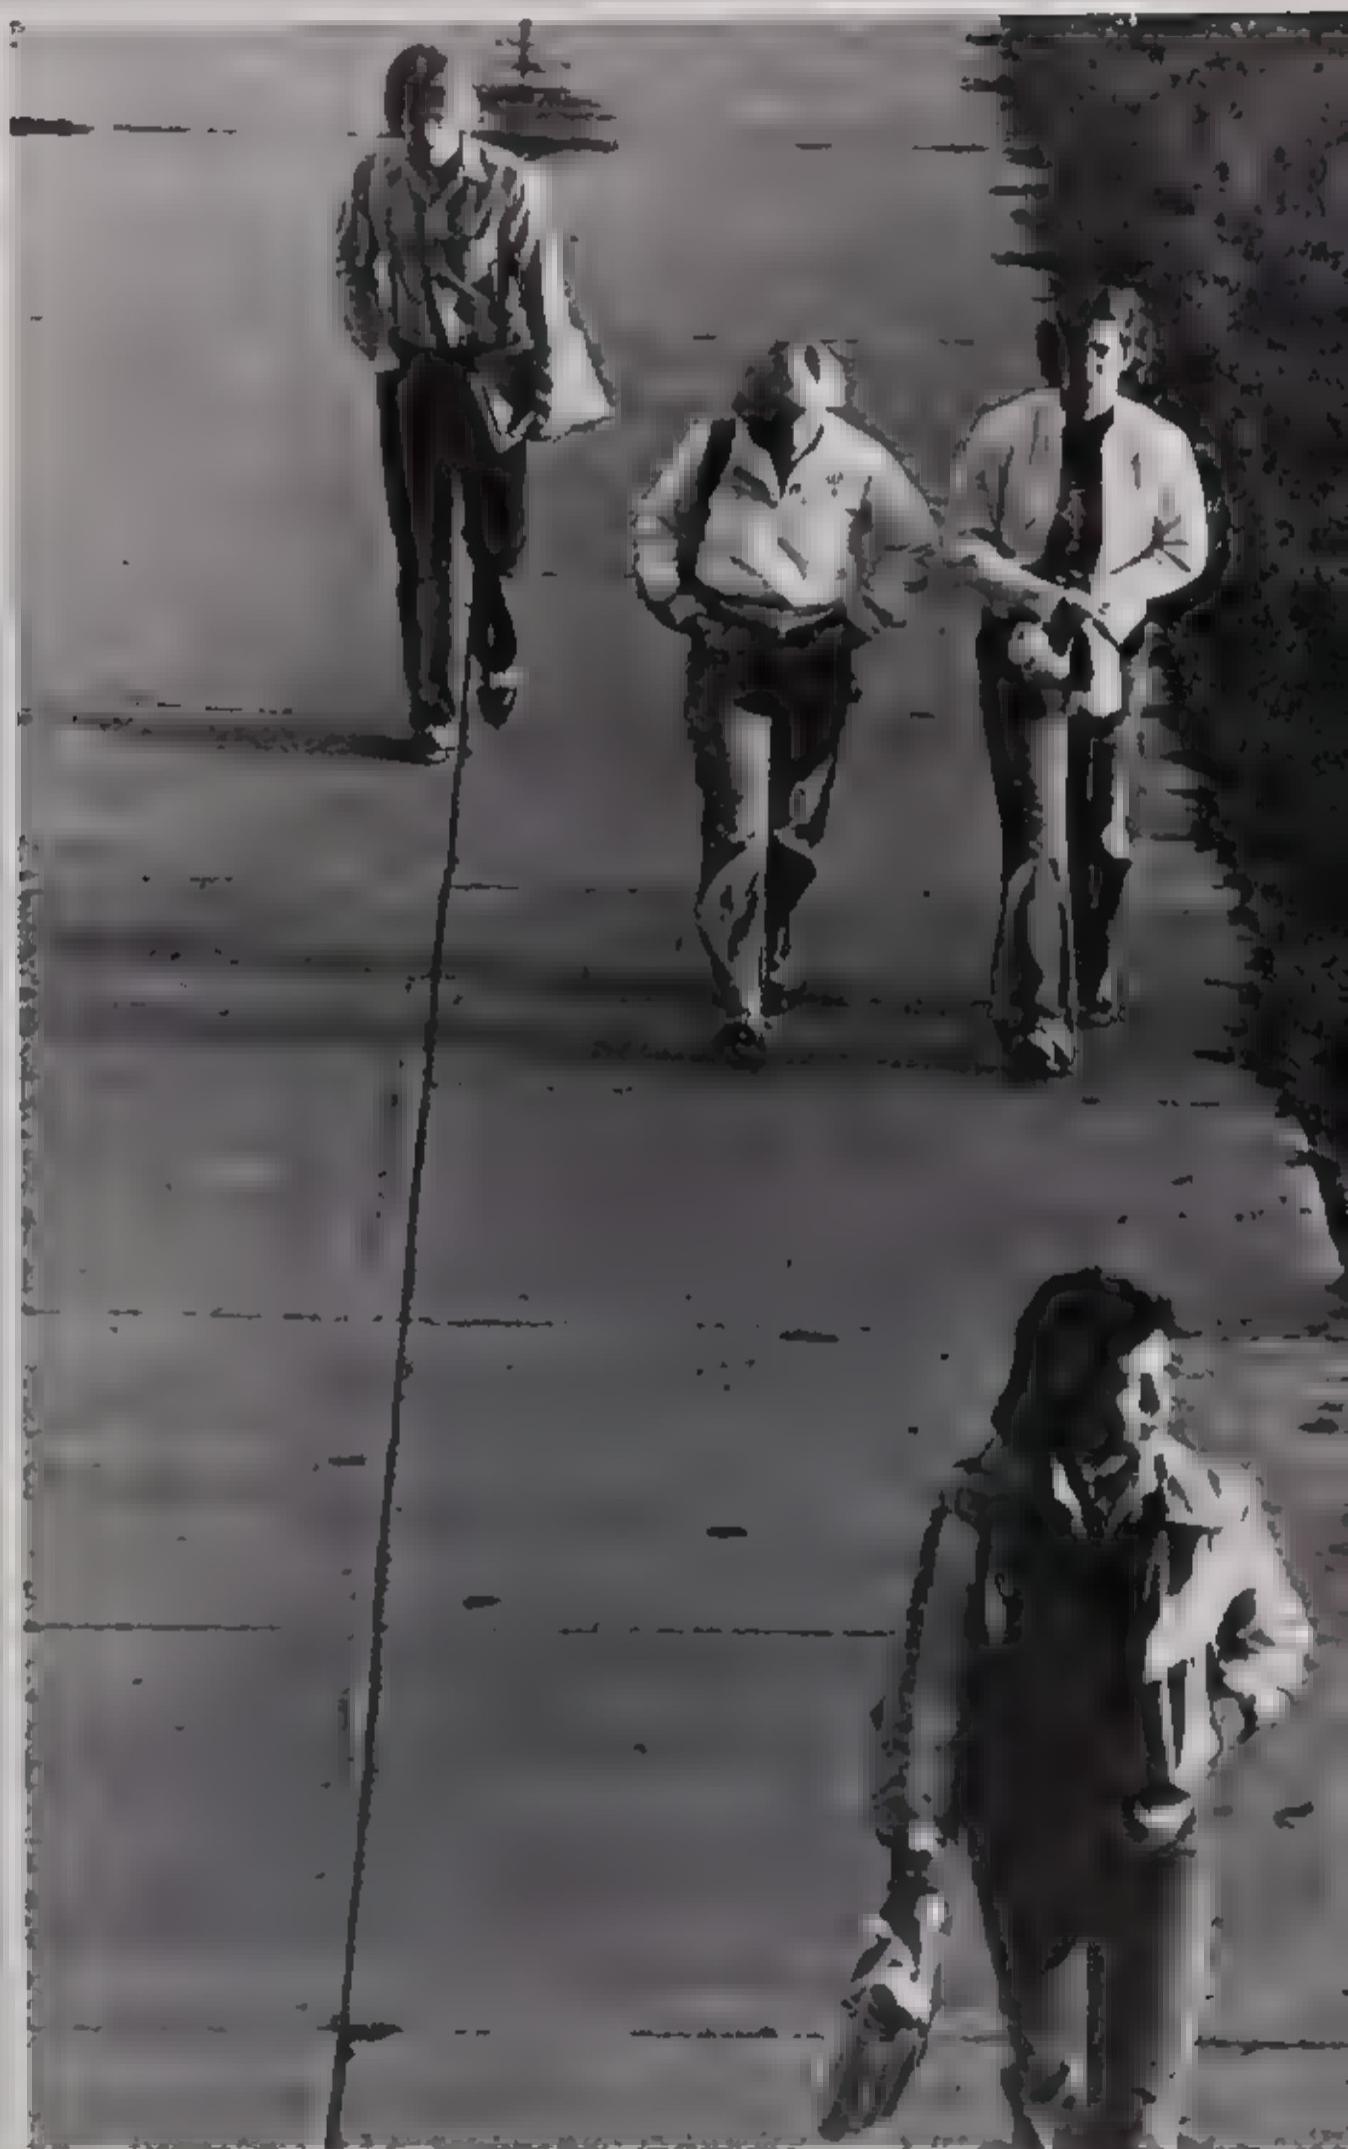

A small minority of students left the sights and sounds of Hastings for peace and quiet up in the BWCA or enjoyed a foreign taste of summer on an AFS program.

Although everyone did something a little different they all shared one common feeling: No matter what you were doing the summer seemed too short.

GROUPS OF STUDENTS can be seen every morning coming into school from the student parking lot. A lot of kids drive because they work or because they're involved in sports. Others drive because they'd rather spend money for gas than be caught riding the bus.

THIS STONE TABLE has transformed the Veteran's Park into what is known to the students as Stoney (Stone Tables). Students will be found here on the weekends or before a party

WHY IS the Hastings Lions Park a good place to "Hang Out"? With the high cost of gasoline and the park's locality, it makes an ideal park for the students

Where Do They Go When School Is Out?

Every generation had its own special places to go. These places were an expression of the times and an outlet for getting away from it all for awhile. Hastings students have singled out several spots as their own, where they can be themselves, talk with friends and have a good time.

The popularity of these places increased due to the ban on drinking in the parks after 10 pm. This ban was brought on by the litter and vandalism occurring in the parks. Parents voiced their concern, as well as the police department. Reports in the recent months show that this ban has been effective.

LOCATED CLOSE to school, Roadside Park offers a place to go for the students after school. The Greenhouse is the main attraction as a place where you can sit with your friends

QUIET TIMES at the Dam are few, but by 2:30 school is out and students begin to gather. They take it easy after a rough day of school or may plan for the weekend ahead.

CITY CREWS from all departments of the city were pressed into action Saturday morning, June 7th. Their main concern was the restoration of essential service and opening up the streets for emergency vehicles.

THE SOUNDS OF chain saws began Saturday morning, June 7th, and continued throughout the week. Over 1000 healthy trees were destroyed by the gale force winds.

STUDENTS AT HASTINGS schools had a "snow day" off on Thursday Sept. 3rd. Eight of the 18 buses parked in the garage suffered only cosmetic damages. Workers pull 17 of the 18 buses out and all were readied for the Friday morning pickup of the 5000 students in the Hastings area.

Time Stood Still

Time stood still this summer, as storms past through cutting off power to the Hastings area. About 3 am., Saturday morning, June 7th, rain and gale force winds swept through Hastings blowing down trees and power lines.

Shortly after 8 pm., on Tuesday, July 15th, Hastings residents were lashed by straight-line winds clocked at about 100 mph. Damage was mostly to roofs, storage sheds, fences, uprooted trees, and downed power lines.

A "snow day" in September. Yes, a storm blew in Wednesday night September 3 and blew the school bus garage roof upon the 18 buses parked inside. Thursday was declared a "snow day" in spite of perfect sunny weather, because the buses could not be pulled out from the garage which was totally destroyed.

DRY ICE was trucked into Hastings residents, for use in their refrigerators and freezers after the storm on Saturday June 7th. Some residents went without power until Tuesday afternoon.

THE HERB STEINKE FARM is littered after the July 15th storm swept through the Hastings area. Winds clocked at about 100 mph tore apart barns and silos.

Boundary Waters Canoe Trip 1980

As the final seconds of school ticked by, some 1475 students were looking forward to another summer vacation. All but 60 of us were in this state of mind, for we were looking forward to another two weeks of school.

The big question was where were we going. The answer? The Boundary Waters Canoe Area! Whoever thought of a classroom in the woods? Who thought that a canoe and a paddle could be an essential part of a learning experience?

AS WE PORTAGED from Canada to the U.S. on Little Knife Portage, Ken Owl showed us his voyageur spirit as he double packed to the next lake, to save precious time

LUNCHTIME DRAWS the "gang" towards the food packs to get their share of fig newtons, dried apricots, rye krisps and honey MMMMM Good!

HOW ABOUT A DIP? On a layover day at Seagull Lake, near Trails End, Kristi Hellzen was about to be thrown into the lake by Dean Cran, Ken Owl and Jeff Hoffman.

PADDLING HARD through the smoke of a 1980 BWCA forest fire, Chuck Ratgen and Ken Owl race to end a grueling 12 mile day

A LAYOVER DAY came with a sigh of relief for Dean Cran, Chuck Ratgen and Jeff Hoffman as they spent their day soaking up the sun on rocks near Knife Lake

AFTER THE half hour wait for dinner at a BWCA campsite, Linda Klem relaxes and enjoys the home made stew with an ice cold glass of kool-aid

FAST FOOD chains offer many jobs for students. Mary Waldhauser works as a cashier and cook at Hardee's.

STUDENTS FIND work at retail stores. Here Melinda Andersen restocks the shelves at Thrifty Snyder Drug in the Midtown Shopping Center.

GROCERY STORES offer many hours of work for students. Troy Klein and Mike Hill spend their time as carry out boys at Red Owl.

STOCKING THE BACK ROOM at the Ben Franklin Store in Hastings was Junior Jeff Hoffman. Jeff works after school and on weekends

Students Find Work

Everyone seemed to need money and one way to get it was to find a job. That's what many HHS students did.

They need money for cars, clothes, concert tickets and to have a little extra pocket cash. Most of the students just stick to their homework, and get a job during the summer months.

Some working students have to be on the job by 3:00 which leaves them out of any extra curricular activities.

A handful of students leave for work after period 4. They are enrolled in the work programs like DECA, OEA, and Trade and Industry.

EXPLAINING THE DIFFERENCE in cameras to a customer was Senior Kathy Biessel's job. Kathy works for Photo Fair in Hastings.

FILLING OUT receipts for customers was part of the job for Senior Brian Biermaier. Brian puts his time in at Hastings TV and Appliance.

Early Birds, Get the Job Done

How would you like to have been one of 130 students that got out of school after 4th period to work?

To enroll in one of several courses offered, such as OEA, DECA, T & I, Work Study, or Agri. Business, students had to pass preliminary courses. These courses consisted of mostly seniors and some juniors.

The students worked at an approved and supervised training station in the business community. They worked 15-20 hours a week and received pay for their work.

The OEA work program had students working in the community where they practiced their skills learned in school.

The Agri. Business work program was involved with on the job training related to the agricultural phase of our community. Students worked in places such as implement dealers, grain elevators, greenhouses, and area farms.

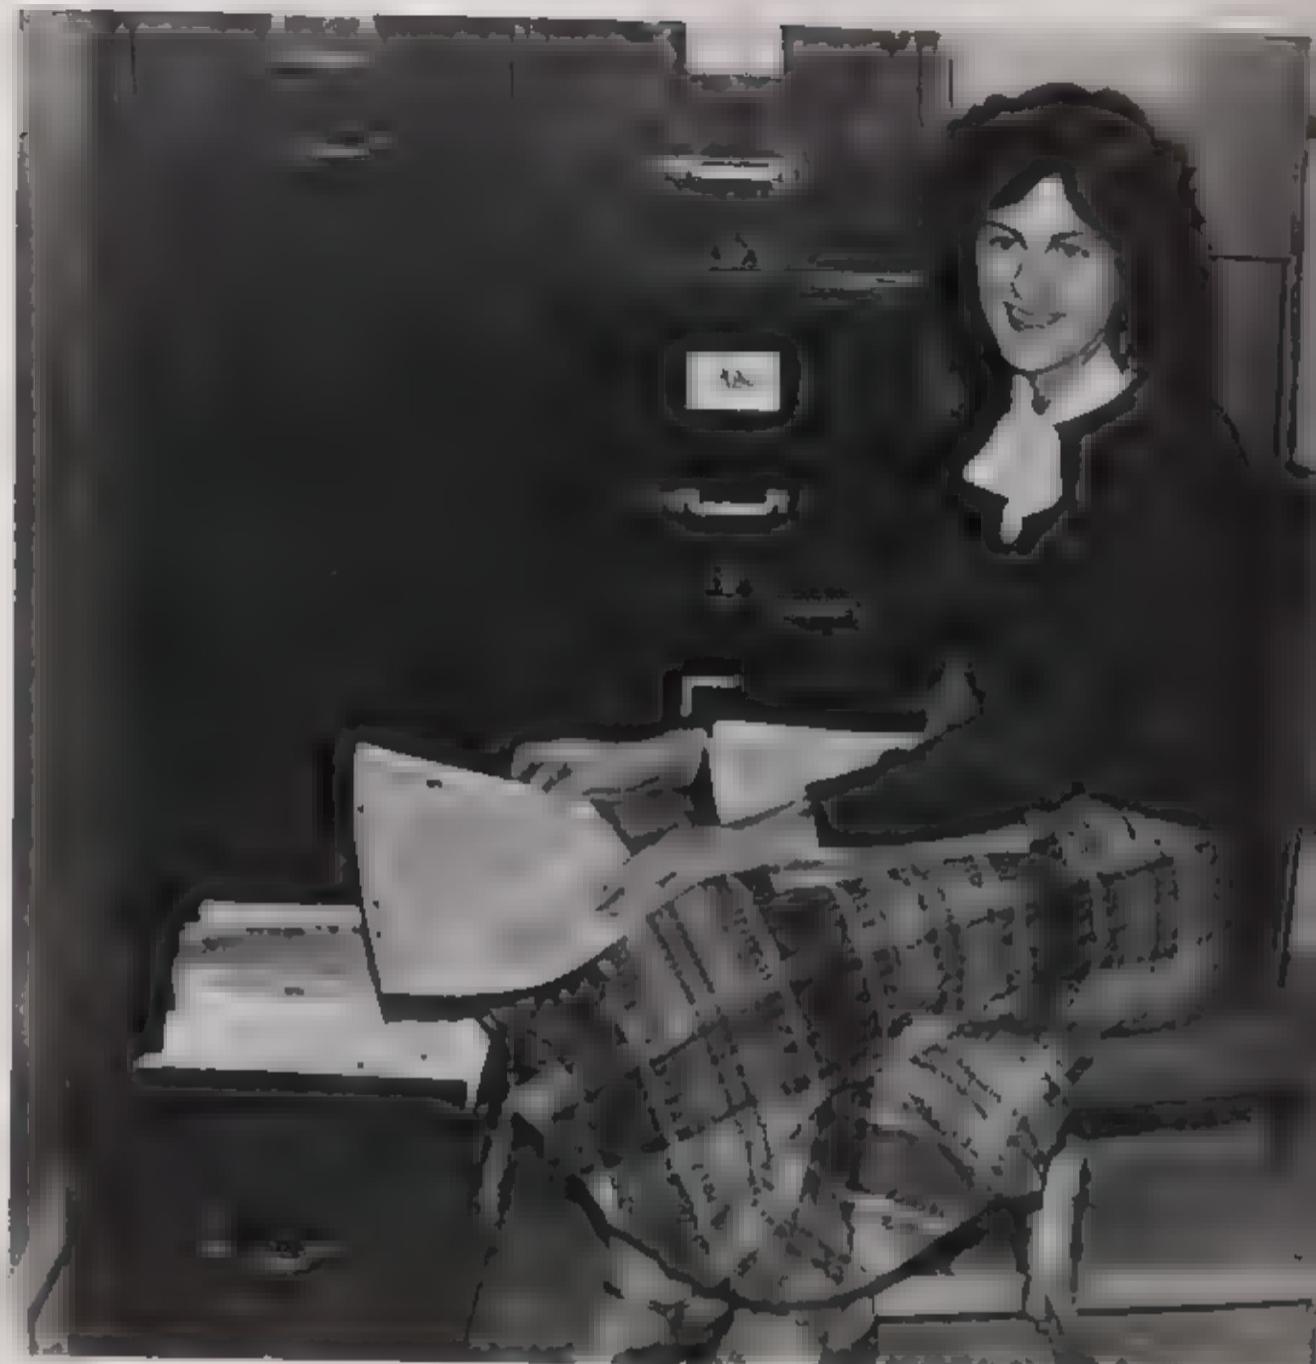

The DECA work program allowed students to work on their marketing skills in retail businesses in Hastings.

In the Trade and Industry work program, students worked as cooks, busboys, waitresses, mechanics and stock boys in the community.

Students who had special needs found that the Work Study program helped them finish the school year.

ANSWERING THE PHONE was one of Kathy Bare's duties, as she worked at Northwestern National Bank in the Loan Department.

FILING STATEMENTS, answering the phones and general office work, were part of Nancy Flanagan's job at Gilfillan Ford.

WORKING AT Olson's Greenhouse, Lori Kimmes arranges a bouquet of roses to meet a customer's approval. It gives her a sense of satisfaction to create a beautiful arrangement from scratch.

AS A COOK AT Papa Charrito's, Mary Holzemer shows her talent at making a taco. She also makes enchiladas and other Mexican dishes.

WORKING OUTSIDE in the cold was one of Dan Frandrup's duties at Bahls Motor & Implement.

ALL BOUNDS OF DECENT DRESSING was forgotten on Grub Day. Senior Mike Meunch sports a tattered shirt and well worn jeans

A LINE of the high school's marching band is shown during the Homecoming Parade. The band was very enthusiastic and generated much excitement

MEMBERS OF THE CROSS COUNTRY team participated in the Homecoming Parade. They were one of many groups which helped to provide entertainment.

THE HASTINGS RAIDERS head off the field chaulking up another victory. Hastings beat Park with a score of 15 to 0.

A Personality All Our Own

HHS students are proud of their school and not afraid to show it. During Homecoming week it was especially evident. The energy and excitement brought the school to life throughout the week. Students looked forward to each day wondering what outrageous outfit to wear or just waiting for the big game against the Raiders number one rival, Park High School.

Each year Homecoming arrives with much anticipation and chaos. Due to the outstanding spirit of the student body, it almost certainly becomes a success. They showed their Raider Pride constructively to make Homecoming 1980 one of the best!

ALL THE WORLD LOVES A CLOWN, especially a smiling one? One of the students volunteers time to kick up his heels as a clown for the Homecoming festivities

THESE DAYS THE WEST has spread to all parts of the country John Robertis proves to us that the urban cowboy is alive and well at HHS

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS didn't win the hall decorating contest. They showed incredible spirit for being new to the school

Something to Come Home to

Homecoming of 1980 will long be remembered for those who participated, especially the seniors.

The week long festivities began Monday, Oct. 6, with grub day. Bright smiles and ragged clothes were abundant. The smiles were unusual for a Monday.

Tuesday was dominated by hats. Hat Day coincided with the Pep Fest which raises the spirit of the student body higher.

On Wednesday, time rolled back about 100 years to celebrate Western Day. Cowgirls and Cowpokes filled the halls. There was also a minority of students who came as Easterners. Coronation, Wednesday evening finally relieved the curiosity as to whom were chosen as Homecoming Queen and King. Karen Breivik and Craig DiLorenzo received the honor.

Thursday was Glasses Day. Students were wearing all types of glasses to class. Most of the chatter was of the upcoming game on Friday, against the Park Indians.

Friday finally arrived. School was dismissed early so students could attend the parade. That evening, the Raiders dominated the game, defeating the Park Indians by a score of 15-0. After the game, students who attended the homecoming dance, enjoyed the sounds of the band, "Stryder."

FIRST PLACE in the Car Contest went to Senior Tim Madden. Tim and his father rebuilt the '75 Bobcat from a totaled car.

SIDELINE CHEERING for the Raiders football team was done by cheerleader Senior Cheryl Doorak and Mascot Junior Laura Lunde

AT CORONATION, Karen Breivik and Craig DiLorenzo were crowned 1980-81 Homecoming Queen and King. They were selected from 18 Homecoming Queen and King candidates.

THE NIGHT of the big game was down-right chilly. Melinda Anderson, one of the colorguards, wrapped herself in a blanket to try to stay warm.

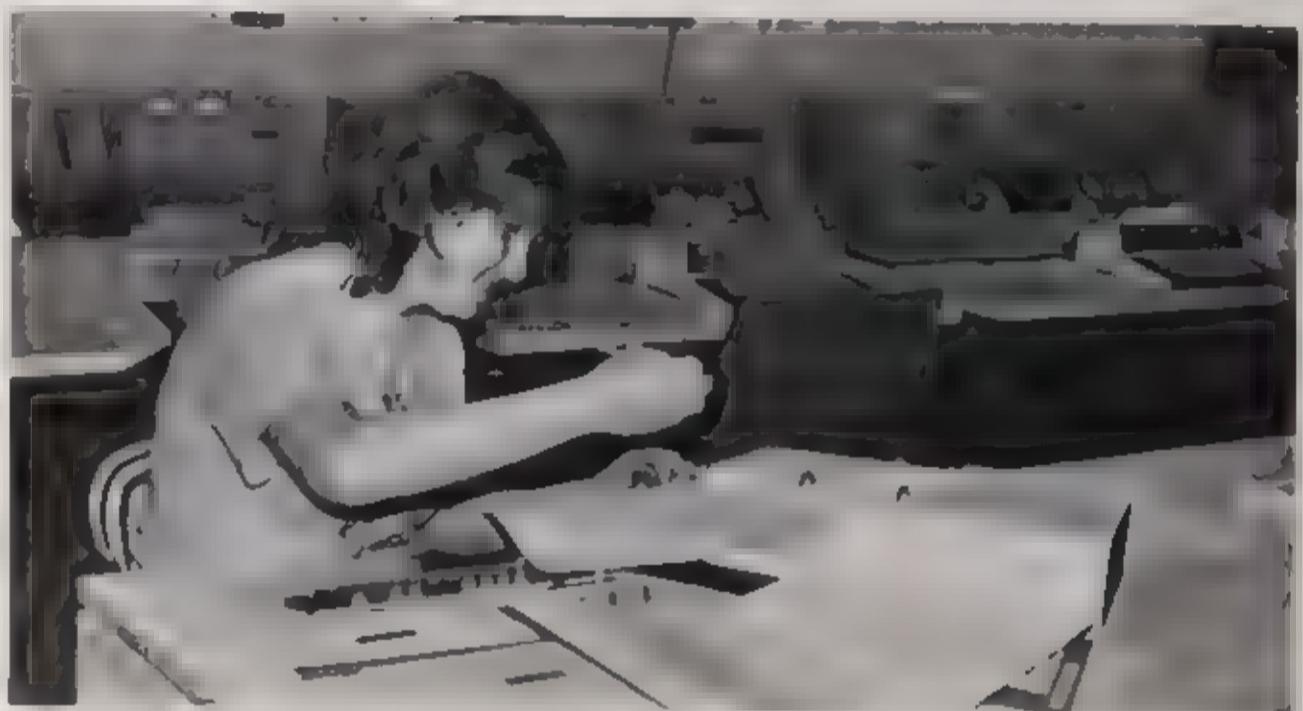

SEVERAL OF the senior girls began the tedious work of decorating the senior's hall. Their work payed off as the senior hall won first place.

GRAPHIC COMMUNICATIONS shop was where Bernie Jahnke and Jim Piene silk screened a print on card stock before printing on a T-shirt. Both students attended Vo Tech in the afternoon.

AS THE AFTERNOON at Rosemount Vocational School lingered on, Dianne Swanson, a student in the data entry programming field, checked her work for errors.

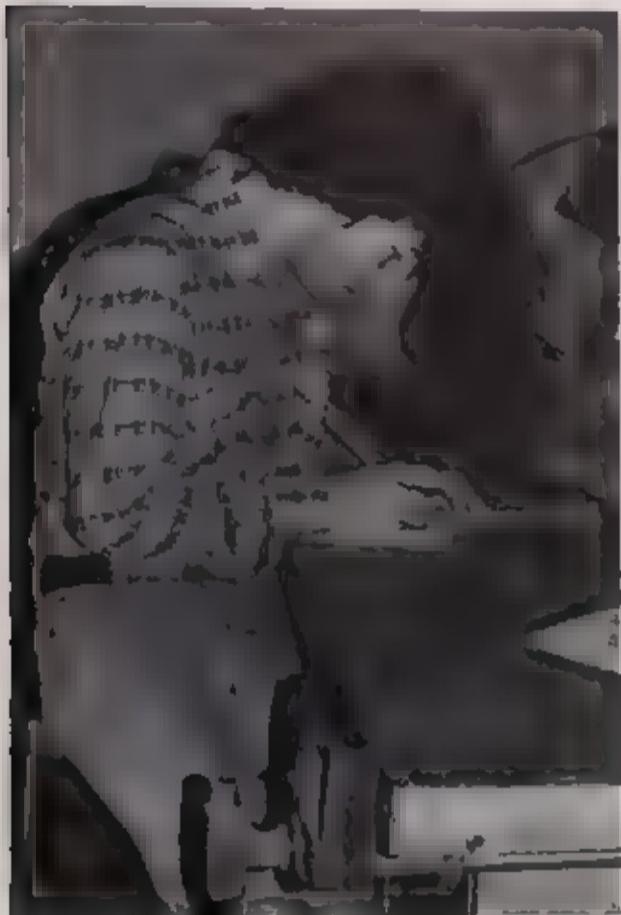

THE ANIMAL CARE Program at Vo Tech provided training that can be useful every day to people such as Sue Morris, who enjoys animals and has many pets.

TO CREATE a food masterpiece each step in preparation must be done skillfully. Developing such skill, Del Schramm, cuts up fish to be used in a display made by the AVTI students in Rosemount.

FINISHING A DRAWING of a wall frame unit in the Construction Trades class was Kevin Corbett. Kevin attended morning classes at AVTI

A School Away From School

When the 7:50 a.m. bell rang, about 50 Vo Tech students boarded a bus for their half hour ride to Dakota County AVTI.

The students spent a two hour block of time in their chosen classes. Then they boarded the bus for the return trip to Hastings.

This whole process took up the first or last three hours of the day for some 100 students at Hastings Senior High.

Students were offered a large selection of classes to choose from. These classes included animal care, auto service, bank and loan teller, building service occupations, construction trades, data entry operator, food service, graphic communications, and many, many more.

These classes were broken up into semester or year long time periods. All classes carried a 2 credit per semester grade.

The students who were chosen for these classes, were selected by a "selection committee." The committee consisted of principals and counselors.

The process of selection has many different aspects. Some of the criteria the committee looked for when selecting students, was their attendance record, general interest in school and their job interest.

REVIEWING CORRECT PROCEDURES in the afternoon Health Service Class at AVTI

were: Bonita Swanson, Kathy Zeien, Barbara Rother, Karen Swanson and Brenda Gerlach

Villian Strikes H.H.S.

This year's HHS Fall Play, a comical melodrama, "FOR HER C-H-E-ILD'S SAKE", was shown on November 7th, 8th and 9th in the senior high auditorium.

The villian, Gaylord Duckworth, plots and schemes to control the Paine family fortune and their cheese factory. Gaylord forges a will, tries to manipulate Midge Paine to marry him, promises Dorothy Bullock marriage, and becomes engaged to Beatrice Hudnut.

Gaylord fights with the hero, Fairfax Kesselburg, manages to be foiled at every turn and finally gets blown up by his own bomb.

Besides all of the action in front of the curtain, there was the action "behind the scenes". Much of the play's story involves people you don't often see. This "cast" includes costume makers, set construction workers, lighting crew, publicity workers and ushers.

A special effect was achieved by using stage footlights. These gave the illusion of being lighted candles. "They turned out better than I thought", stated John Moes, chairperson of the light crew.

Straight seams, gathering and pinning waist bands all became part of the costume makers daily routine in making of the women's costumes. All of the men's costumes had to be rented for the play. "I was working up to the last minute", said Dearna (De) Berg.

This play also brought a new talent into the limelight, Mr. Mike Simacek technical director.

THE VILLIAN LAWYER, Gaylord, explains the fake will to heirs of the Paine family. The fortune and cheese factory was inherited by Midge Paine

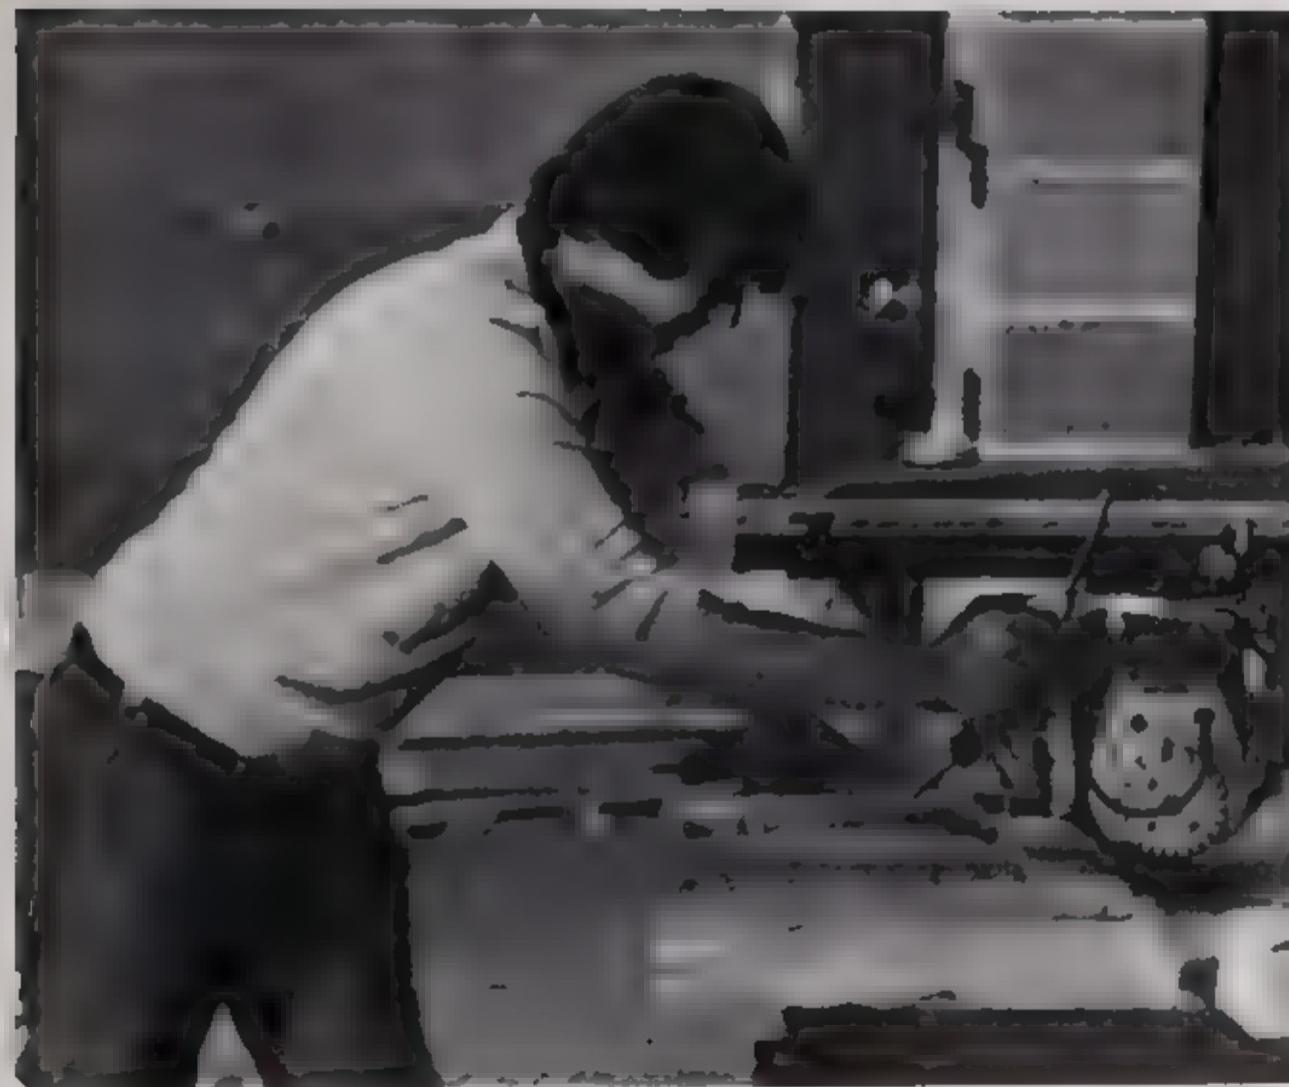

SETTING THE LIGHTS are lighting crew members Margaret Scully, Julie Baldwin, John Moes (chairperson), Lynn Alcorn, Steve McMahon, Mary McCoy, and Brian Teuber

The lighting crew does not get to work on the play until all of the set pieces are in their proper place on the stage

AMELIA, Junior Beth Borash, put the finishing touches on her make-up. Cast members must put on make-up every night for the last five nights of the production

EVERY DETAIL on the set must be perfect. Senior Heather Turngren tries to press out any wrinkles in the curtains hung over French Doors on the set

SET CONSTRUCTION worker, Sophomore Brian Teuber uses the table saw to cut a 1 x 4 for building a flat. Brian spent six weeks of his time on the play

Less Talk and More Rock!

Rock music was epitomized with Elvis and the Beatles. It found a solid place in the lives of teenagers.

Music is a big part of the HHS students after school life. Students have equipped their cars with AM-FM radios, 8-track and cassette stereo tape decks, and hi-fi speakers. The radio stations most listened to are KQ, the first Twin Cities album rock station, and K101, which seems to be more popular.

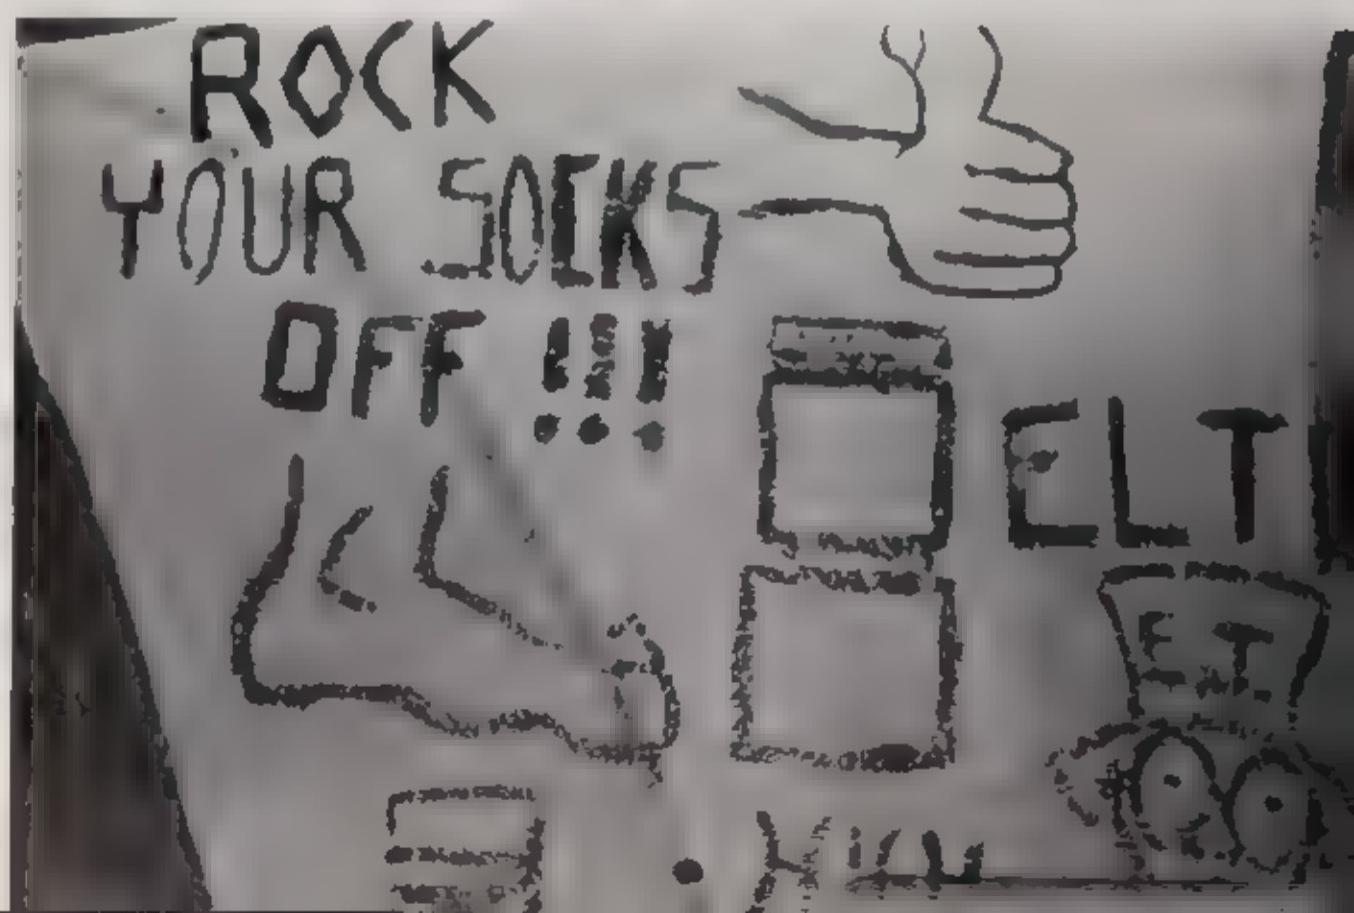

The best way to really enjoy rock music is to hear it being played in concert. Jerseys are often seen around school the day after the concert, proclaiming the name of a favorite group.

According to a poll taken in school, the favorite is REO Speedwagon, with AC/DC and Lynyrd Skynyrd coming in a distant second and third.

TICKET STUBS and album covers are colorful. What do they make you think of? Concerts and excellent music.

AN AVID CONCERT GOER is Jim Harp. He has been backstage at several concerts and has met members of groups, such as Journey, AC/DC, Blackfoot and Foghat.

SEEN AROUND SCHOOL after concerts was the usual Friday attire: a jersey and jeans

Nighthawk's was formed about five years ago under the name of Chain Reaction. For the first couple of years the band members were drummer Craig Kieffer, lead guitarist Dave Wesley and bass guitarist Jim Carlson.

The last three years, they have performed under the name of Nighthawk. Keyboard player, Steve Fluegel joined the band about the time of the name change.

They've come along way from their early days. Last summer a Florida based production company became interested in a song written by Wesley and Carlson called "Weekend Lover."

With a few more original music compositions, Nighthawks could possibly record an album.

Until then, the band plans to keep busy. A trip to Florida as a warm-up act for a feature band may take place.

But when fall comes around they plan to split up for awhile to attend college. That is—if they don't hit it big in Florida.

LEAD GUITARIST of Eyes, Dan Robinson, has learned some techniques from his brother-in-law who plays with D.B. Cooper.

PERCUSSIONIST Jeff Belitz sure knows how to mix drums with singing

. . . And The Beat Goes On.

MEMBERS OF SPOILER take it easy after a hard practice. Members include Ken Haaland, Jim Coughlin, Dan Siebenaler, Erik Mathison and Chris Illa.

Carl Moeller, Dan Robinson and Jeff Beltz have only been together a short while. The name of their band, Eyes, was conceived while they were watching the movie, "The Eyes of Laura Mars."

Eyes practices about four nights a week for four hours. Both Robinson and Beltz play in other bands in addition to their commitment to Eyes.

They hope to focus all their energy into Eyes as soon as jobs become available.

Eyes describe themselves as a "high energy power rock trio." New wave is alright for them but not the really weird kind. They have written some original songs but haven't worked them into their act yet.

The band plans to begin playing at local bars around town like the "Crystal Pistol." They would like to end up by playing at the Civic Center.

BASS GUITARIST for Eyes was junior, Carl Moeller

"A band means a group of people that get together and that's exactly what we do," says Dan Siebenaler, lead singer of the band Spoiler. "We just got on the bandwagon."

Spoiler is made up of a conglomeration of different bands. Their music reflects the type of music that is popular today. The members do not like new wave. They prefer to play what they term as "rowdie rock."

The other members of the band are bass guitarist, Ken Haaland, Jim Coughlin, lead guitar, Chris Illa, rhythm guitar and Erik Mathison on the drums.

They try to get together to practice two or three times a week.

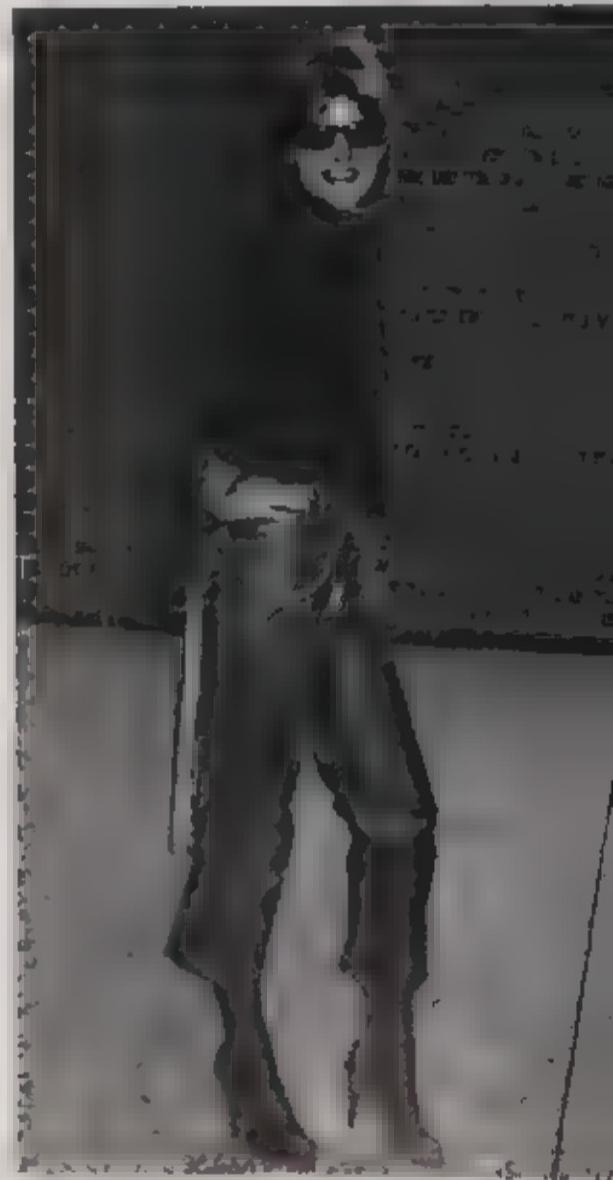

DRESS STYLES changed for a day as a small group of students displayed their unique outfit on Punk Rock Day as shown by Senior Pat Collins HAT DAY gave students the opportunity to "ham it up" in school. Mary Kasel, John Moes and De Berg display their hats for the camera.

COLLEGE DAY was the start of the Snow Week activities. Students wore T-shirts, jerseys and sweatshirts bearing names of colleges as shown by Laura Hobday and Enn Corbett

Snow Week Festivities of '81

Snow Week of January 1981 was very different compared to other years. Snow sculptures were not made by school organizations because of the lack of snow. The first day of Snow Week was a big success. Students and faculty took part in College Day by wearing T-shirts and sweatshirts of a college in or out of the state of their choice.

Carnation practice took place during 4th period in the auditorium.

On Tuesday, all of the Punk Rockers showed up in their unique and rather cool get-ups. It was evident that students favored other styles of dress for there were very few students participating.

Many students exhibited their school spirit while attending the Pep Fest Tuesday afternoon. The cheering contest was dominated by the Senior Class. The cheerleaders lost the tug-of-war.

Hats off to Snow Week was the spirit around the school on Wednesday. There was a great variety of hats displayed by the students.

Nerd Day shared the scene with Hat Day on Wednesday.

Eastern Day took a change around HHS when sheiks from foreign countries showed up in the halls and classrooms.

As Snow Week quickly came to an end, many students and faculty showed their spirit by wearing their blue and gold shirts and jerseys.

PEP FEST was held during 7th period on Tuesday of Snow Week. The pep fest gave students a place to display their school spirit.

Snow Week—Night Time

The evening activities of Snow Week were just as exciting as the daytime activities.

It began with Monday Night's Coronation. The candidates waited anxiously to see who would be announced the winners to a packed auditorium.

The theme for Coronation was "Celebration," with the Stage Band and the Swing Choir supplying the entertainment.

Terry Endres and Kathy Keichler won for the senior class. The juniors that won were Tom Lucking and Michele Endres. For the sophomore class, Mark Jensen and Leanne Sanderson won.

Wednesday evening was an exciting evening, for it was the first annual Battle of the Cheerleaders.

The cheerleaders participated in such events as a tug-of-war and a bubble blowing contest. The hockey cheerleaders were victorious.

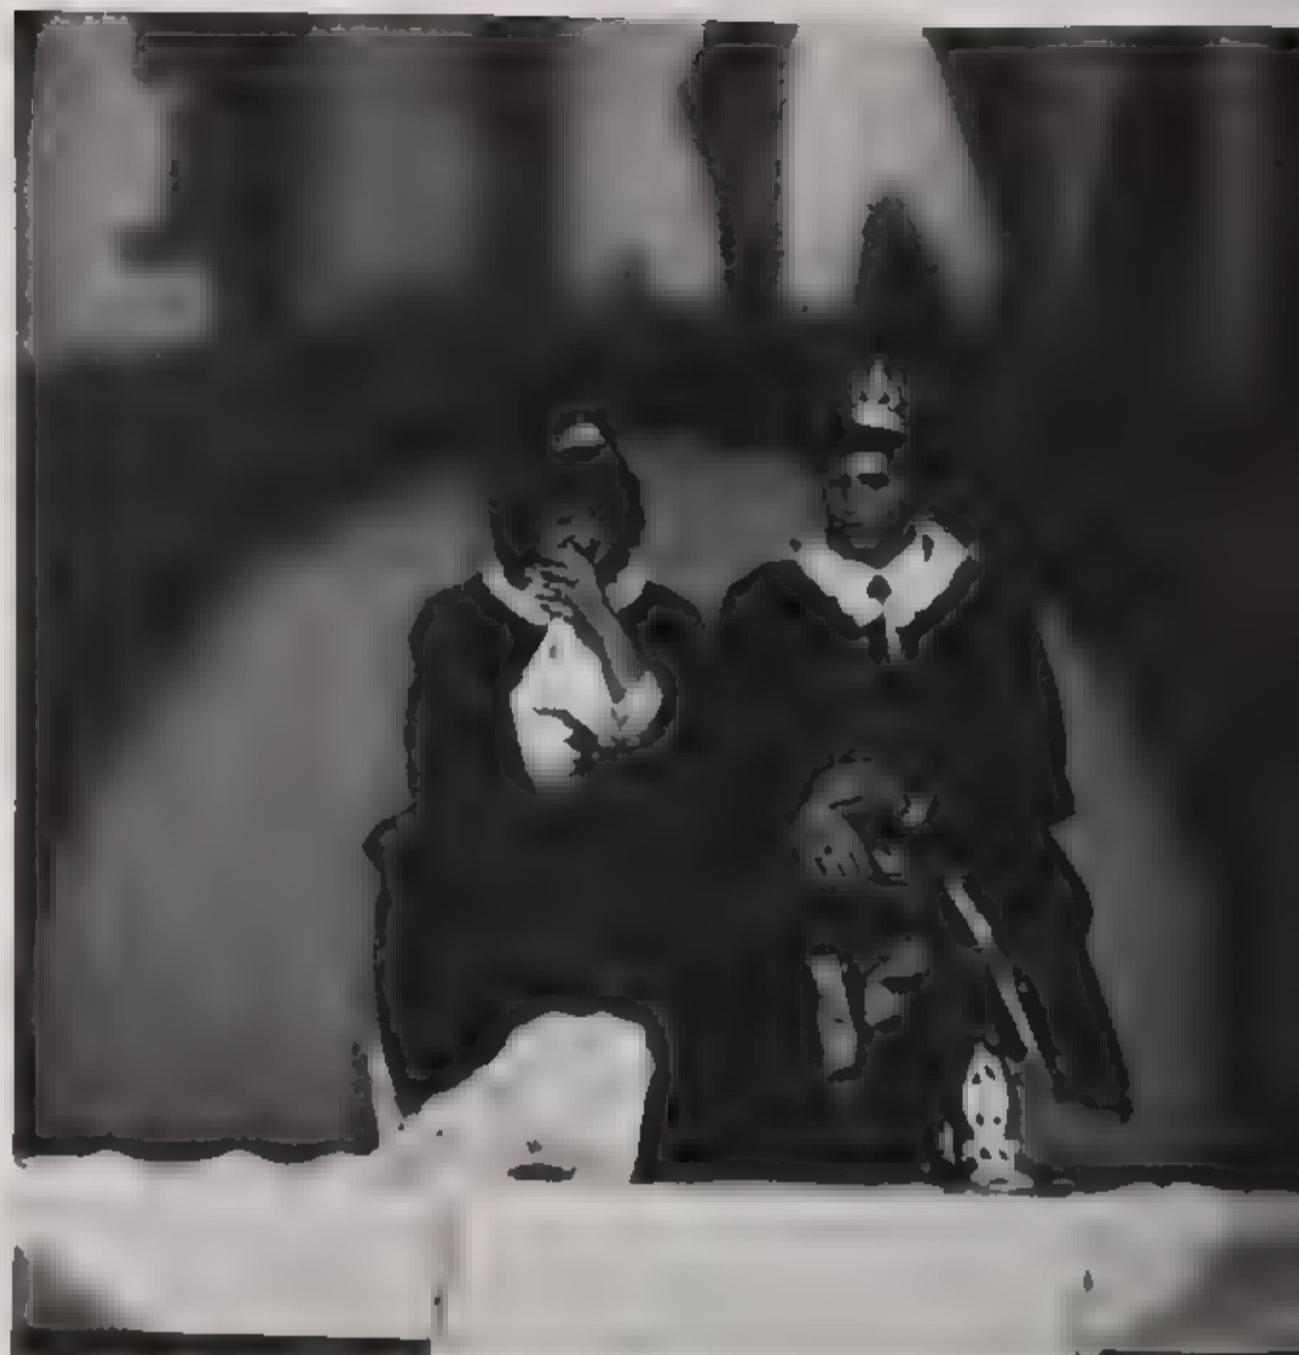

The spaghetti dinner was a big success on Thursday night. It was sponsored by the Junior Class Prom Committee.

Friday night was Ground Round night. The cost was $1.50 to get in and it covered all the popcorn, peanuts you could eat and all the pop you could drink. Nighthawks provided the entertainment for the students.

For the final night of Snow Week there was a dance in the gym. About 250 students danced to the tunes of the Loafers.

SWING CHOIR MEMBERS, Patty Perrault and Paul Milhaupl, sing a duet during Coronation, Monday night

WORKING ON SET, David Simacek, assembled a piece to a park bench. The set for David and Lisa was open beamed, with no walls, doors or windows.

OPERATING AN OFFSET press was the work Jim White performed for David and Lisa. Jim helped print tickets, posters, t-shirts and the programs.

DURING A STORYTELLING session, the teacher, Barbara (Joan Fluegel) encouraged the students to tell a story using dreams and feelings. The students, Kate (Joan Dobias) and Simon (Jim Paddock) showed their disinterest in the session.

AT THE BEGINNING of the play, the audience learned of David's (Greg McNamara) obsession with being touched, when the Porter (Greg Feidt) accidentally touched him.

A LOT OF WORK, along with some fun, goes into producing a quality set. John Fox defends himself from Mary McCoy's paint brush, while painting the set.

Lisa Did Rhyme, All the Time

"Ms. Olson was really organized. She took a lot out of herself and gave it to us, so we could produce a good production," stated De Berg.

The production was David and Lisa, a serious drama. The play focused on David Clemens, portrayed by senior Greg McNamara, and Lisa Brent, played by sophomore Heidi Kugler.

Both teenagers were living at and were attending a school for the mentally disturbed.

Davis is very intelligent, but he is afraid that if anyone touches him, he will die.

Lisa is a split schizophrenic. One of her personalities, Muriel, doesn't talk at all; the other personality, Lisa, talks only in rhymes.

"It was hard to understand exactly how David was feeling and how he would react," answered Greg McNamara when asked about his role.

This was the first lead roles in a senior high play for both McNamara and Kugler.

On the second night, after the performance, the audience was encouraged to ask the actors anything about the characters they portrayed, and the work they did to produce the play.

A MOMENT OF personal triumph for David (Greg McNamara) and Lisa (Heidi Kugler) came at the end of the play when David demanded, "Take my hand, Lisa. Take my hand."

A Students Ordinary Day?

Unusual things happened during a run of the mill day at Hastings Senior High, that made school a little more exciting.

The theatre arts students showed off some make-up techniques that were different and greatly amusing.

Eggs showed up at school one day, but they were not for throwing. The eggs represented babies and the students from the child development classes became mothers and fathers for a week.

"TLC" was given to the hard boiled eggs as the students took on many of the responsibilities of parents.

The drama club sponsored Kiss-O-Grams on Valentine's Day. For a quarter, a student could send a Valentine to anyone they wished in school. The receiver would get a song, a kiss and a lollipop.

The school day had its lighter moments to relieve the tensions of school work.

Child development classes assumed the role of parents by babysitting eggs for a week

"WOW" WAS Ken Chapin's reaction to his talents that he demonstrated in theatre arts with his goatee

PATIENTLY AWAITING his kiss from a secret admirer was Mike Novak. Drama Club member De Berg delivered the kiss, song and lollipop

STUDENTS PUT A lot of effort into decorating their eggs

'SURPRISE' was Greg Fendt's reaction to the Kiss-O-Gram that was delivered to him in class by drama club member Heather Turngren

REAL LIFE EXPERIENCES are learned when babysitting a hard boiled egg for a week

KISS-O-GRAMS were very popular around school on Valentine's Day. Drama Club member, De Berg delivered one to Mr. Nel-

FACES

Familiar faces, unknown faces. A face you would have given your soul to meet, and some faces you tried to avoid.

These faces were students, teachers, principals, office workers, cooks and custodians who kept the school running this year.

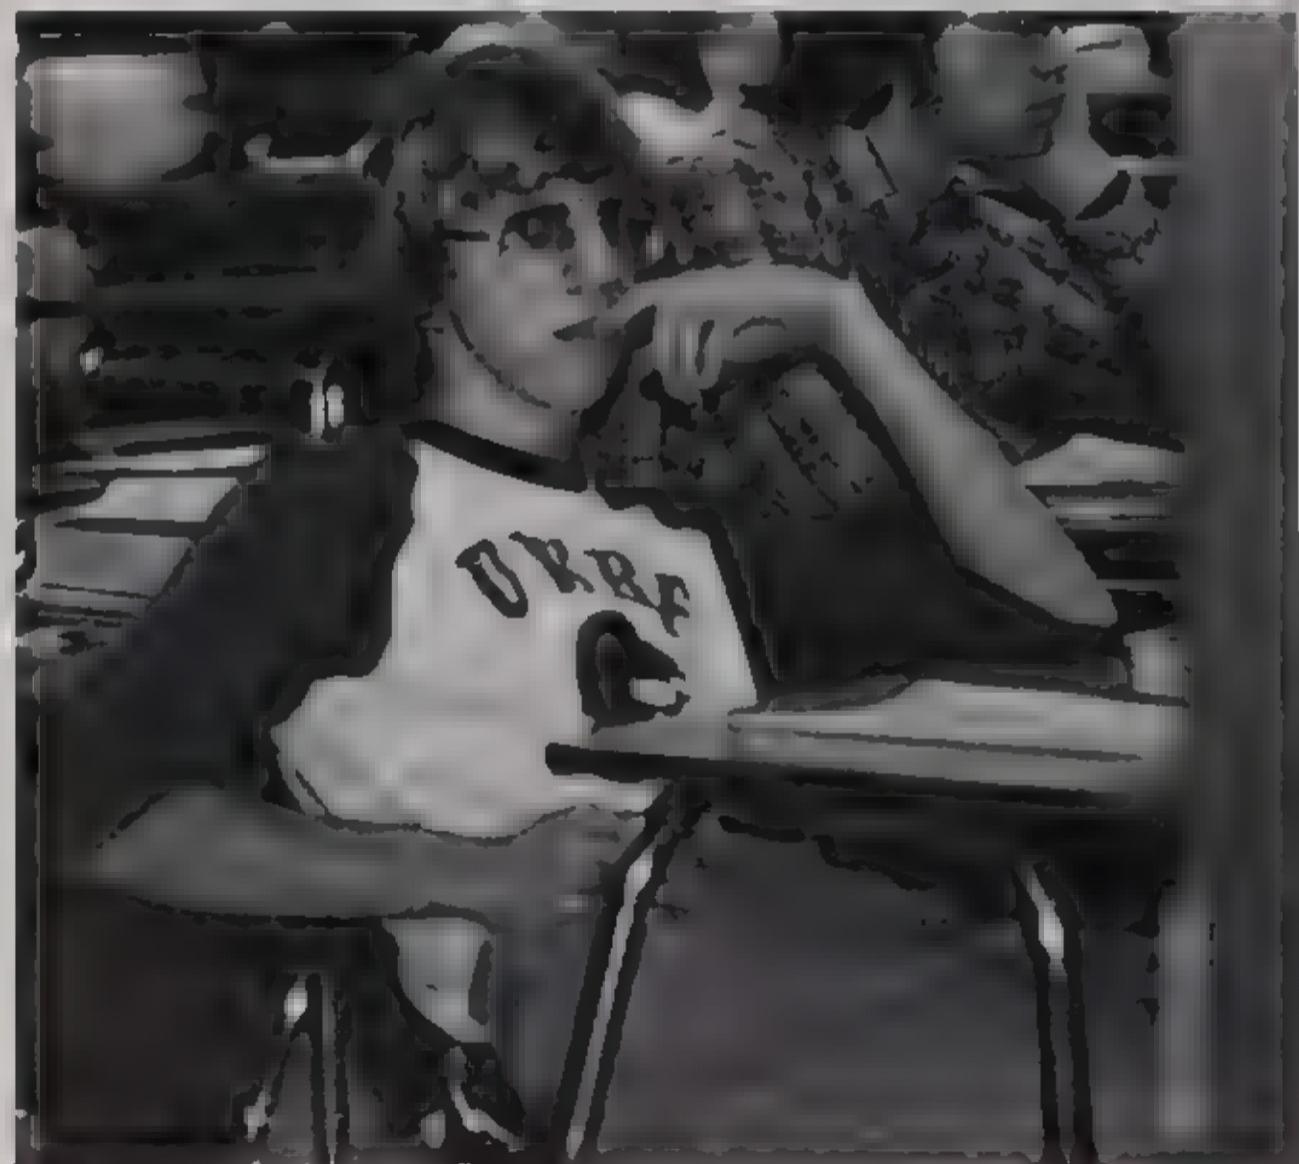

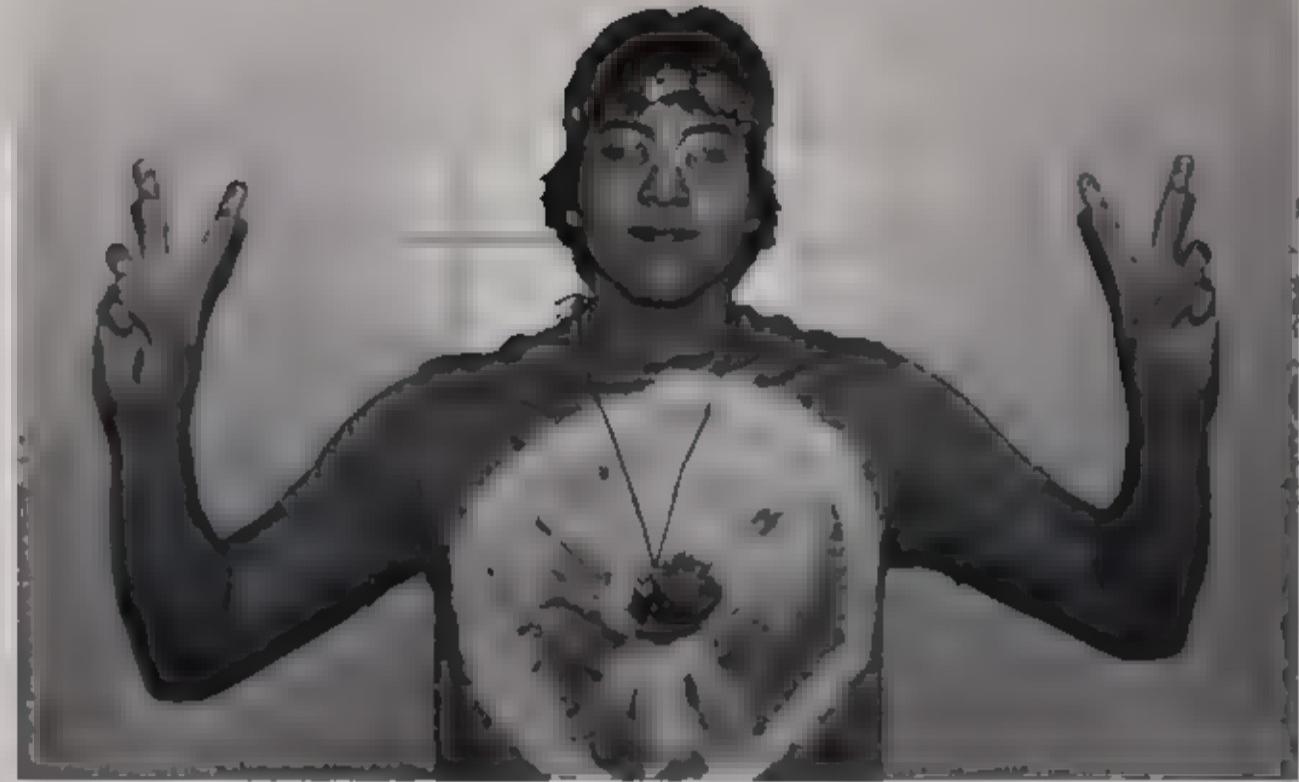

This was the last time the seniors of 1981 traveled through HHS's halls. They spent three years in and between classes waiting for the seconds to tick by.

Junior faces will be seen again, roaming the highways and byways of the school.

Sophomores, this past year's now familiar faces and next year's fresh out of junior high faces, will pass the time meeting students and getting involved in school activities.

The following pages contain the stars of Hastings Senior High School.

A STRANGE FACE roaming the halls one day was sophomore Guy Sherry

A NOW FAMILIAR FACE around school is sophomore, Marty Huberty, patiently awaiting the final bell of the day

REHEARSING ROUTINES were the Varsity Wrestling Cheerleaders. Pictured are: Kim Siebenaler, Kathy Zeien, Colleen Clark, Jane Reinhart, Jeanne Bacon, Mary Morrison and Betsy Miller

DECORATING THE SENIOR HALL for Snow Week involved hours of time and patience. Painting the rainbow on the window were seniors, Julie Fossen and Jane Nesbit.

EAGERLY MAKING SUGGESTIONS for the Junior Hall decorations were Jackie Moes, Kim Destross and two unidentifiable juniors.

THE STORE AT Dakota County Vo Tech provides two marketing students, Ron Fox and Jeff Link, the opportunity to be both customer and cashier.

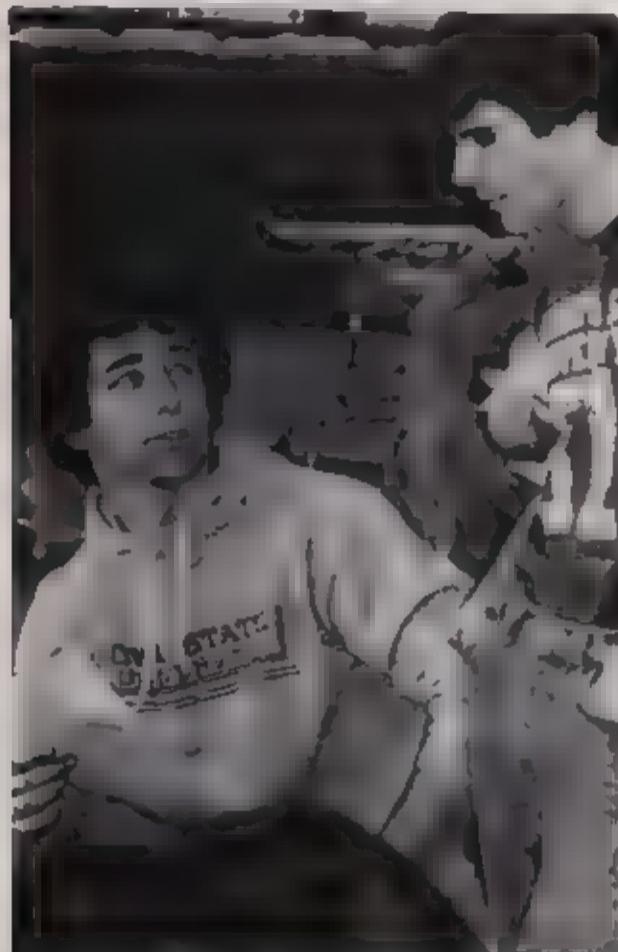

ALWAYS FULL OF SPIRIT, seniors, Rob Kugler and Bob Fricich are always willing to let everyone know . . . we're number one!"

DURING THE SCHOOL DAY, some people, like John Moes, can take time out for a breather

SOMETIMES STUDENTS, Sam Schoen and Craig DiLorenzo, can come up with better ideas for reports and assignments, if allowed to collaborate

Leaders of the Pack

Three years ago, the HHS saw a new breed of people enter its doors—the scorned "sophomores." Unknowingly, they had entered a stage in their lives when people expected the least and the most from them at the same time.

To seniors and juniors, they were considered "children," to teachers and parents, they were "young people." During that time, more and more responsibility was placed on their shoulders, which helped them gain some respect.

As juniors, these same people became more self-reliant after procuring the much coveted "driver's license." With this magical card, no longer were mom and dad needed to provide rides to school and non school activities.

Still, that card couldn't gain all the prestige of being . . . a SENIOR. Seniors are the people who no longer look at a driver's license as the ultimate sign of maturity.

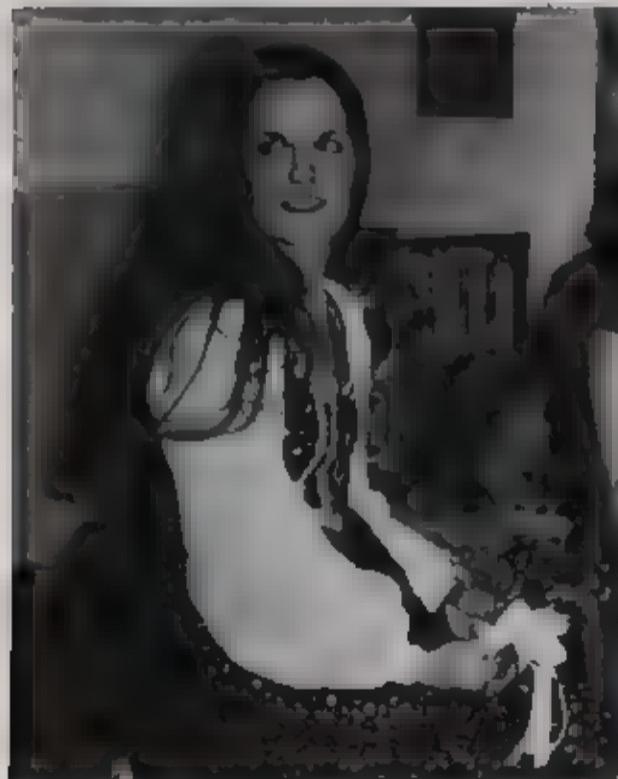

Even things that seemed childish, are looked on fondly, because they are a part of life these students would soon leave behind when entering the adult world.

Today the senior class prepares for that trip into the outside world.

Many will attend four year colleges to receive various degrees, while some enter a two year community college. They will receive technical training in their chosen fields. Others will leave school and enter directly into the job market with the idea of supporting themselves and a place of their own. A courageous few will enter into the service, adapting to the rigorous training necessary to protect our country.

As the years pass, thoughts might return to days gone by, when things were easier. Hands might once more leaf through this same yearbook to reminisce about events that you and your friends were in.

Looking back, maybe you will see a little bit of the person you were developing into, in the person you have become . . . a wiser and more appreciative adult.

'80-'81 Junior Class

"Junior year is an exciting year," says junior Rene Doffing. "I am involved in as much as I can with working on student council, yearbook, and drama."

Many juniors are working hard to establish themselves in academics, sports and organizations. To them next year means they will be the leaders in the school.

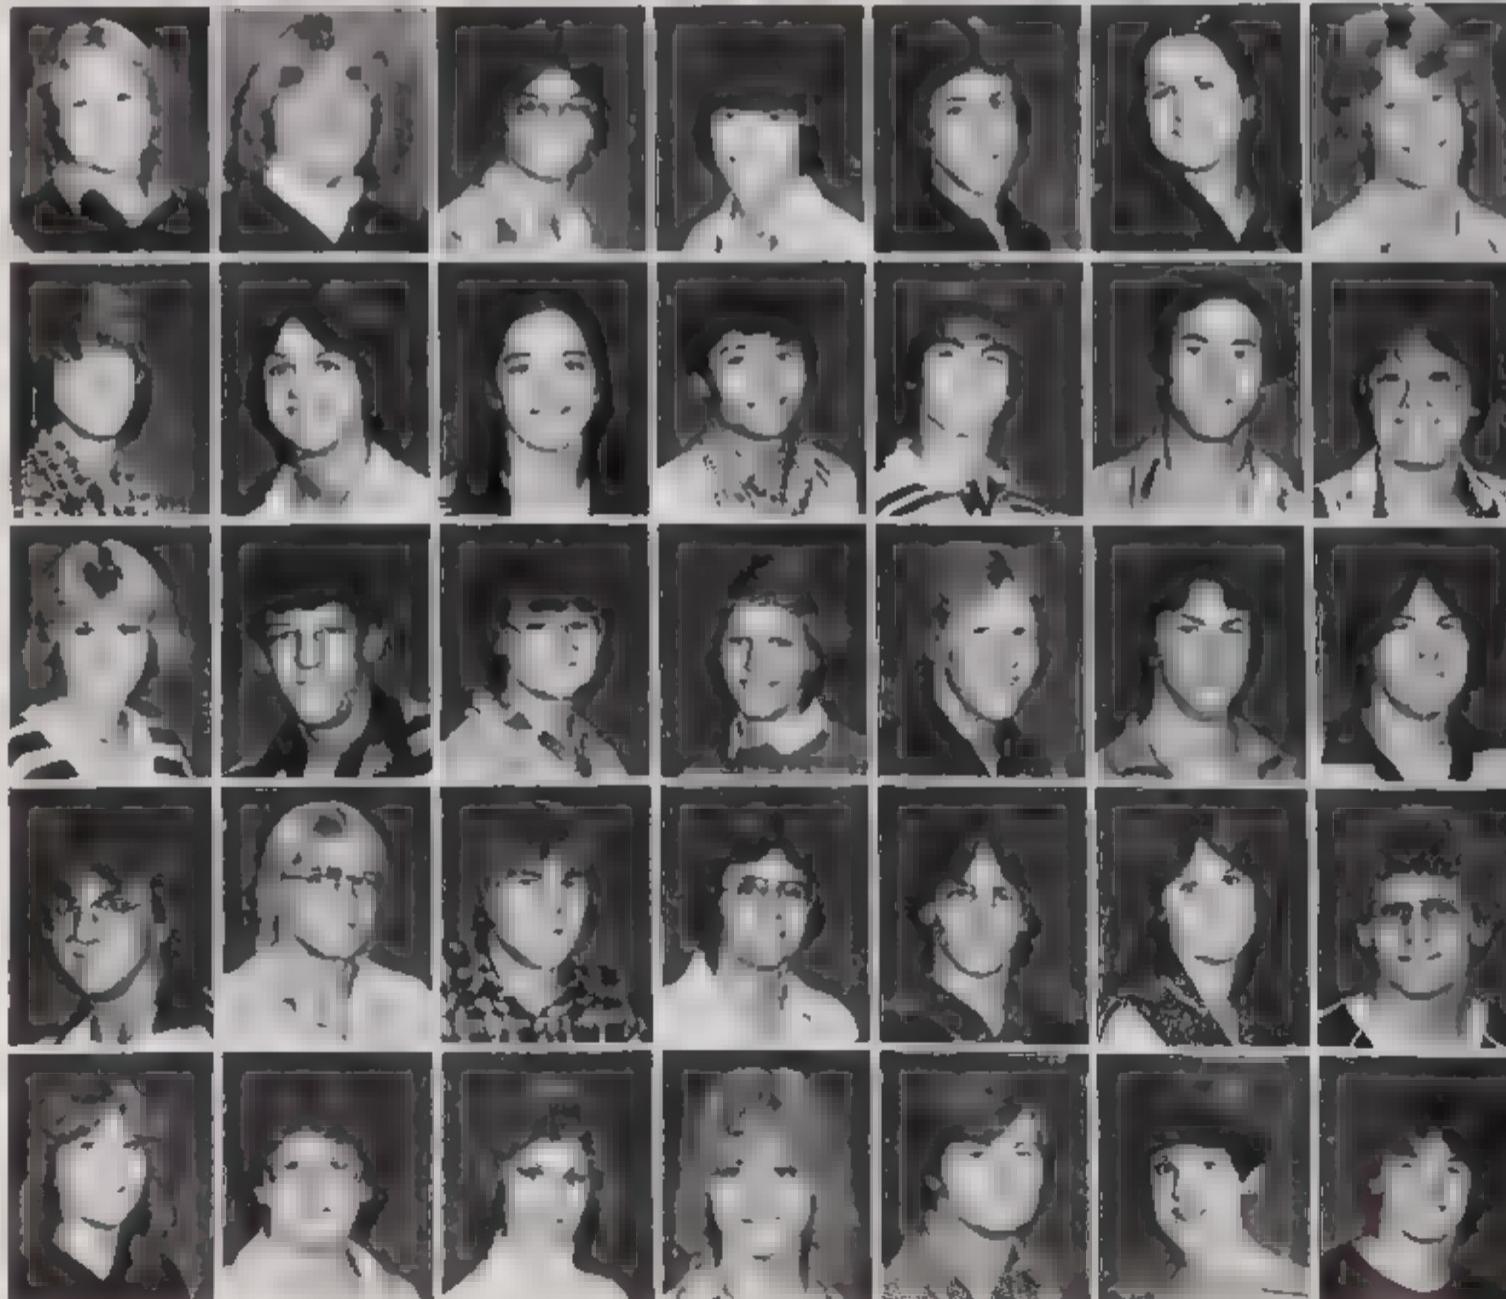

The junior year gives students the opportunity to take the necessary classes for preparation for work programs, or vocational school in their senior year.

Junior class officers are Jane Wright, President, Caren Roberts, Vice President and Robin Norgaard, Secretary-Treasurer.

ONE EXCITED junior is Beth Borash. She got involved right away in the Fall Play, "For Her C-h-e-ilds Sake."

'80-'81 Sophomore Class

New faces, new friends, new teachers and a new building. These are what the 490 sophomores had to face when they walked up the sidewalk on August 28, 1980.

"It was exciting to come over to the senior high, but I was worried I'd get my classrooms mixed up," commented sophomore Rod Bowman.

Facing Another Day!

It is impossible to pass through the halls of our school, without seeing hundreds of people. Passing each person, one of the first things to notice, are their faces.

Each face can reveal in an instant, the owners mood. Everywhere are happy faces, with wide smiles and sparkling eyes, coupled with those who are sad; with their bent heads covered by hair that fails to conceal a hazy, unfocused gaze and lopsided frown.

Interspersed in these two are those faces that express the frustrations and anger that sometimes fill high school years; flashing eyes above flaring nostrils and a tight-lipped snarling mouth.

Are these expressions revealing only an emotion of the moment, or is it possible they are also revealing a part of the individuals personality? If you see these people day after day, aren't their looks usually the same?

As you consider these things, think of the picture your face presents as you walk down the hall. If others expressions can reveal a part of their souls, why wouldn't they see as much in you?

Think on this and put on a happy face, maybe you'll find that the happy face is then on a happy person.

LET'S FACE IT, sometimes you just have to get away from everyone and relax. Jane Pohl and Jackie Moes showed us the perfect way—with music

IT PAYS NOT only to read people's faces in the hall, but in the lunchroom, too. Expressions range from delight (left) to disgust (right)

FACULTY

The School day started out with the staff arriving by 7:30 a.m. to finish preparations for the days activities.

Time was important to teachers to prepare materials, duplicate materials, and grade. And time was especially important for the 17 new teachers at the beginning of the year.

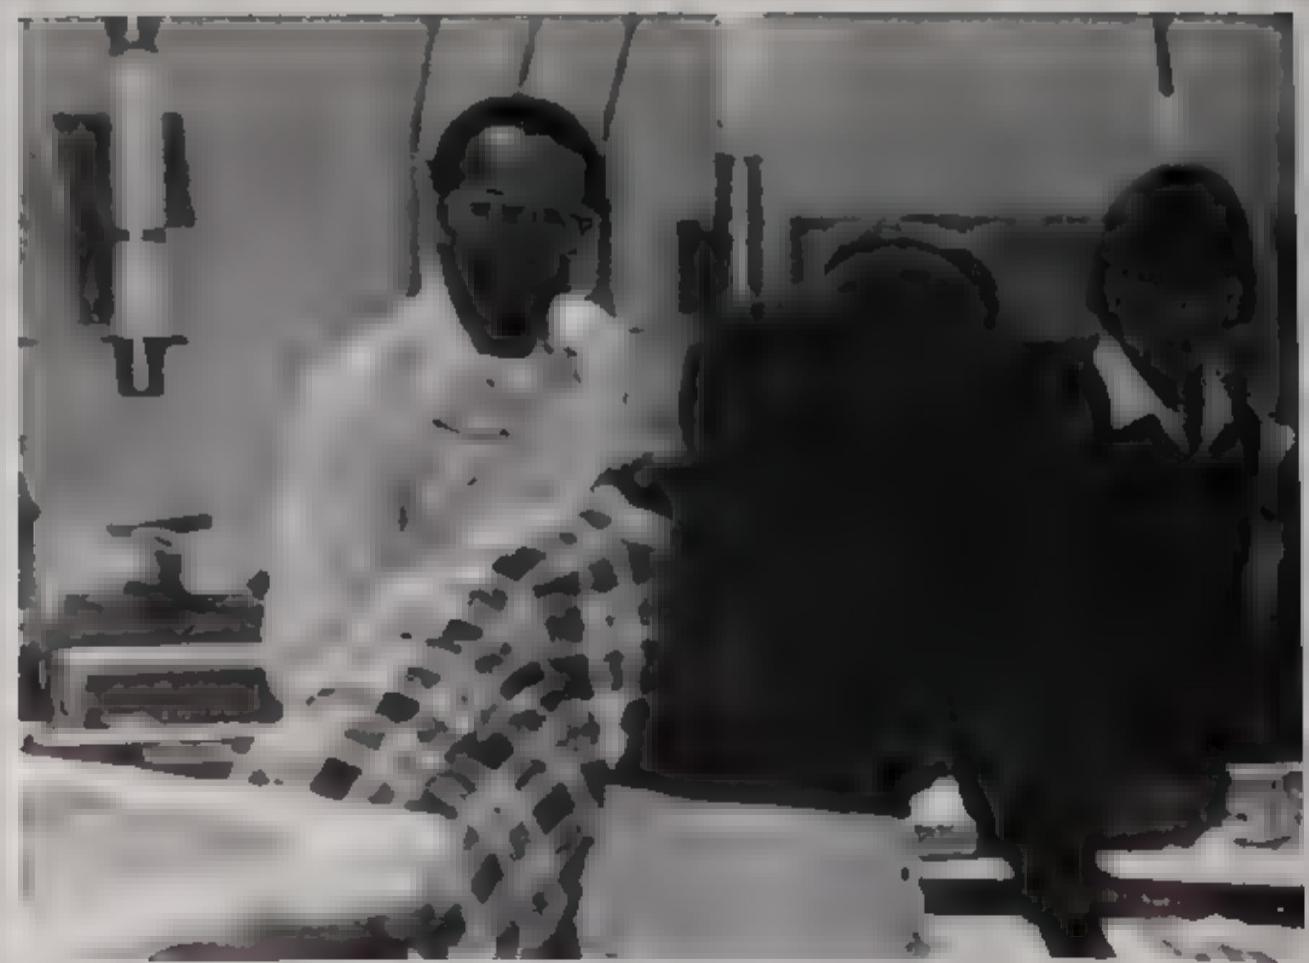

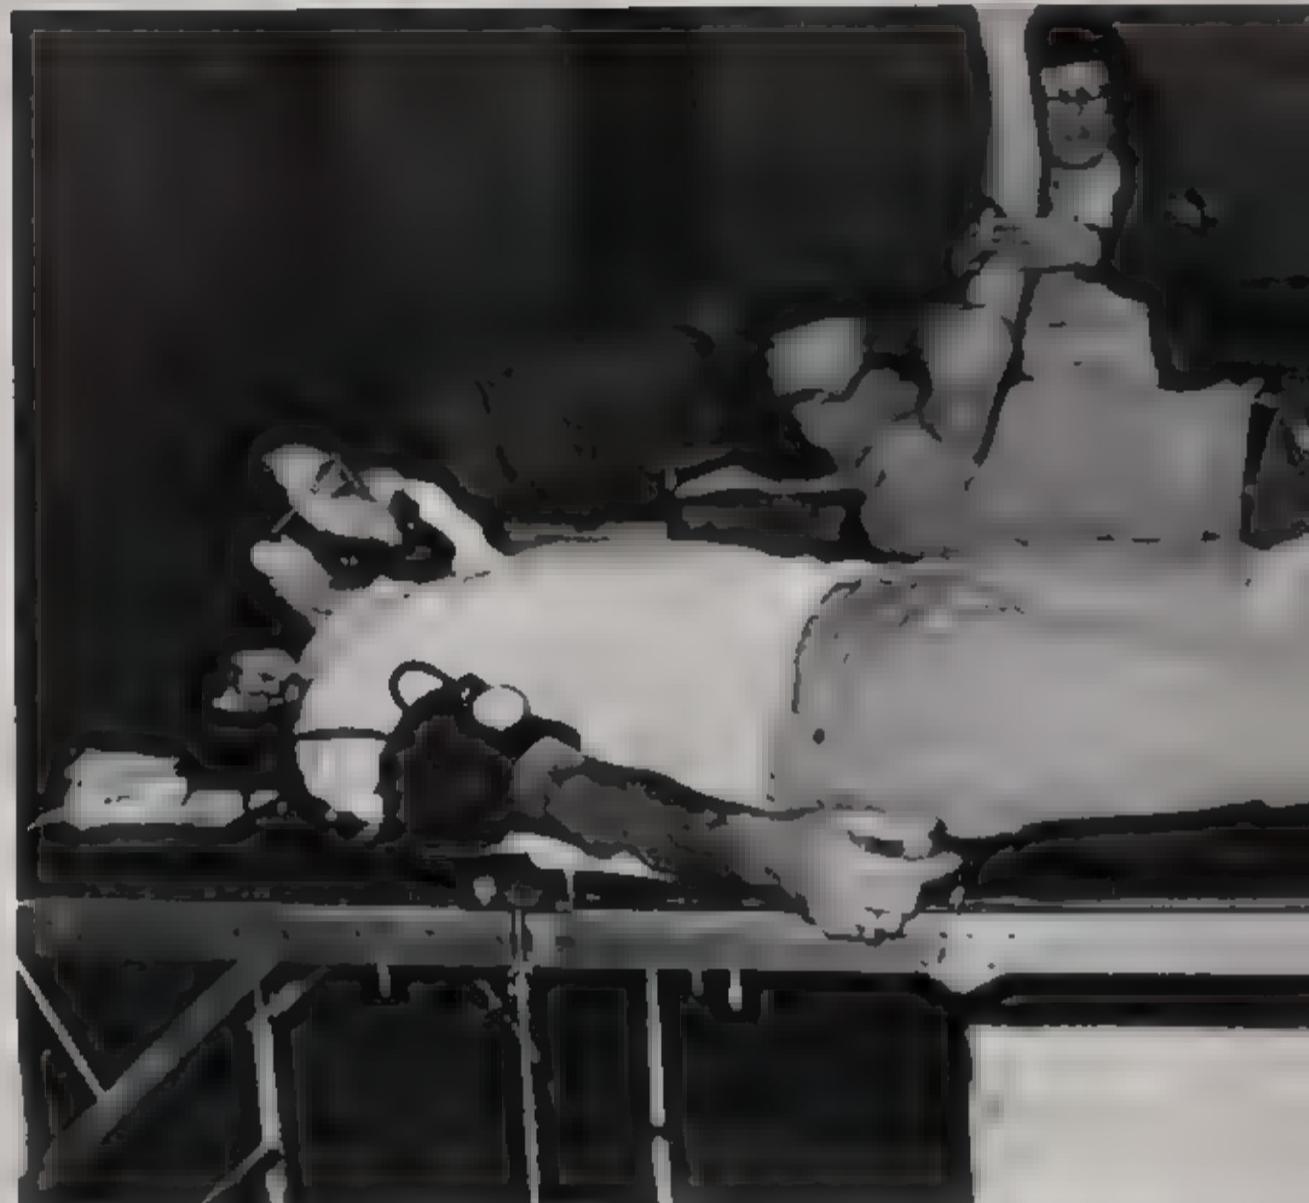

Like every year teachers strived to reach goals to provide a good education. They came with new ideas to continue an interest in learning.

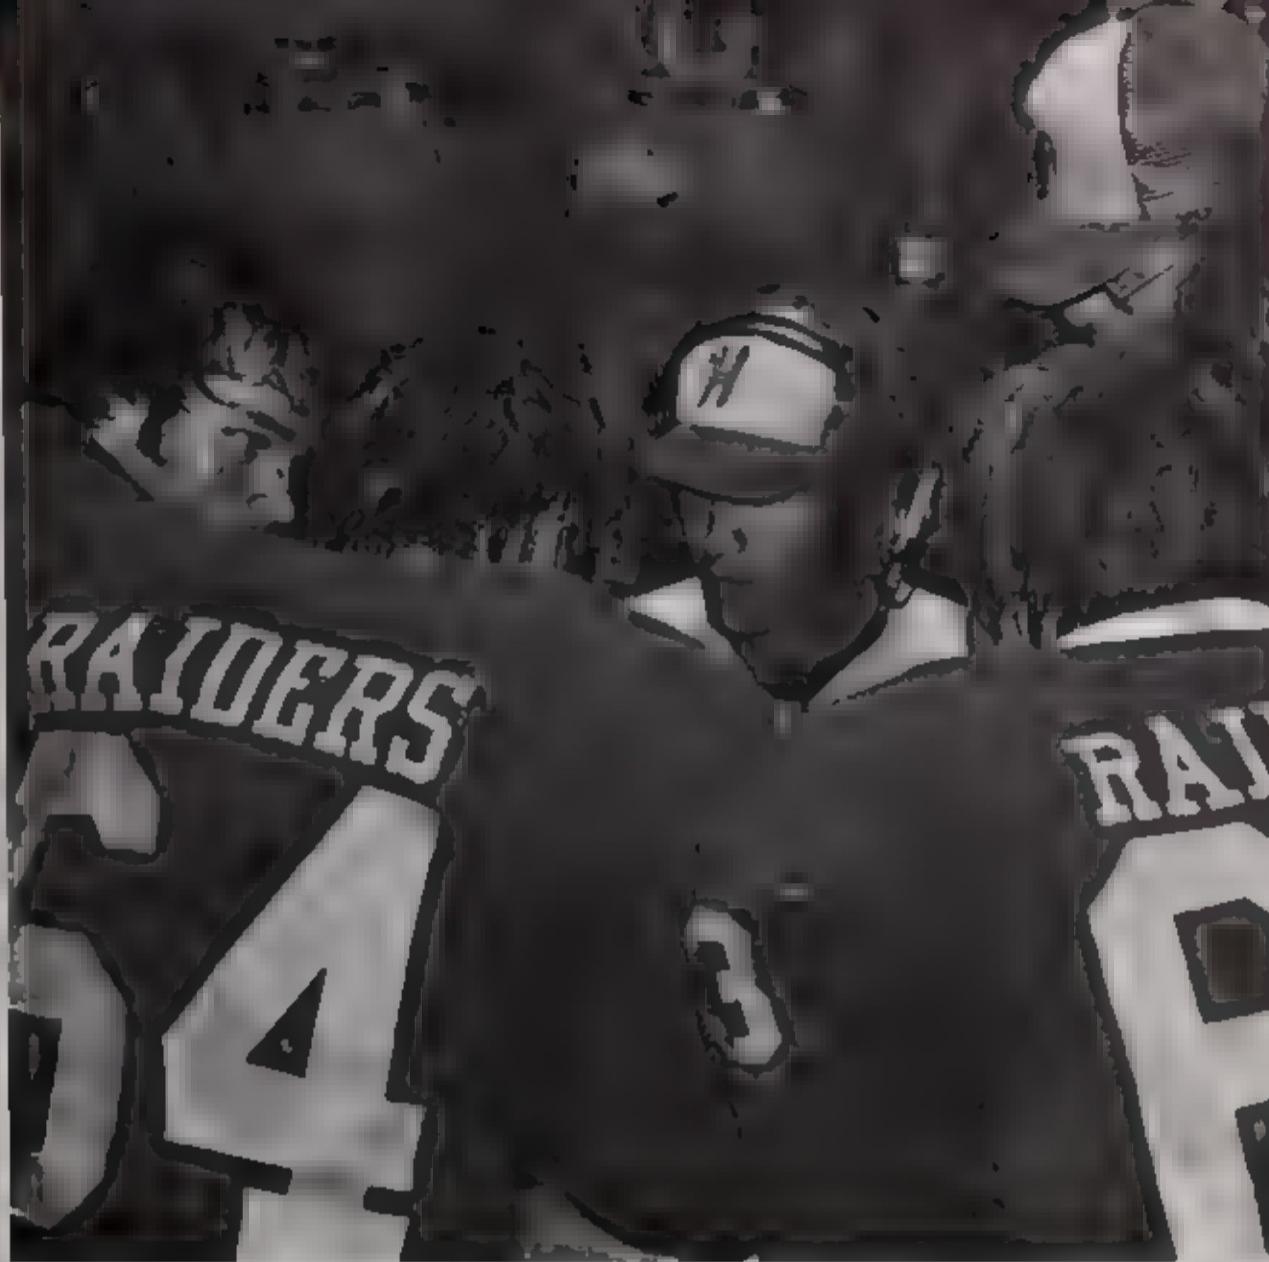

Part of the process the students saw was the variety of electives that were available each semester. They provided challenges for the students and even for themselves.

Also this year, several new changes were made! Mr. Clough became our new principal and we gained two assistant principals. They were Ms. Beaird, with her Louisiana accent, and Mr. VanVleet, a social teacher from the Jr. High School.

People Who Help Us!

The alarm rings early at Walt Schoeder's home each weekday morning. Walt, head custodian, had to be at school by 6:20 a.m. to unlock the doors and prepare for a day of running for students and teachers.

The custodians always seem to be around the corner with a broom in hand and smiles on their faces. Students and faculty keep them busy with jammed lockers, broken desks, and burnt out light bulbs.

The custodians working the night shift, from 3 to 11, had to prepare the classrooms for the next days activities.

When fourth and fifth hours finally arrived, we found the cooks busily serving lunch to students and staff.

Mrs. Warmboe, head cook, reports to work by 7:00 a.m. to plan the days kitchen work. All cooks had to be at school by 8:00 a.m. to start the meal.

Students and adults were used as aides during the school day. Cafeteria aides were hired to help during lunch periods with taking tokens and the Alacarte line.

Some students lent their time by helping others by giving up a study hall period. They did help students find magazines or a book for a report. They were seen walking the building locating students to give them an office or counseling pass.

CLUBS

A student at Hastings High School spent approximately 29,400 seconds in and between classes every day.

But how did students use their time after the bell rang at 2:25. Some students raced to catch the bus and others headed down to the locker room.

A select group spent their after school hours participating in various clubs and organizations.

These students did everything from selling fruit for FFA, singing Christmas Carols for French Club and AFS to leaving school early for on the job training for DECA, VICA, or OEA.

Welcome to My Nightmare

This year, the yearbook brought with it changes. One of the most important, was Gary Gronquist replacing Mr. Chmelik as advisor; bringing with him different ideas.

These ideas helped in finding a theme. To locate this theme, the staff turned to magazines, radio, and finally settled on a TV advertisement: "Seconds Tick By..."

A second change that was made involved the book's layout of a 2 page spread. It contains copy, which tells a story about the activity, people or organization presented.

Pictures also help develop a story, with one having dominance on a page. With each picture you'll find captions explaining what's going on. When the page is finished, a headline is added to sum up the whole page.

The whole book was finished on time and the staff, for all the long hours of work, received a free yearbook and a sense of pride and accomplishment.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT of taking pictures in a Home Economics class were staff photographers Reid Faulkner and Paul Langenfeld

STRIVING TO FINISH a spread on sports for a yearbook deadline were staff members Rod Bowman, Kim Busch and Deb Holm.

The staff spent many hours searching for material for each story. Copy was typed and sent to the Hastings Star Gazette to be set.

The photographers in the meantime went into action clicking pictures, developing film and making prints.

The whole staff met at the Star Gazette to layout the pages. The layouts were driven to Red Wing to be printed.

Three hours later the newspaper was delivered to the high school to be handed out to the students.

Another year has ended for what Patty Perrault thinks is "the best (Raider's Digest) staff in the last three years."

The school newspaper reported on school and non-school activities.

For the staff this means long hours of work, even though Joel Reuter remarked, "Two seconds before a deadline, you whip-up something quick."

His attitude illustrated another staffer's words, "We have lots of fun, but also put out a paper of some quality and dedication."

Council Comes to Order

The Student Council began its eleventh year promoting school spirit in August of 1980.

Its 43 members gathered to organize such events as Homecoming, Sno-Week, fundraisers, and dances.

One event that hadn't been planned, was the resignation of Vice-President Patty Perrault and a valued worker, Scott McCallum.

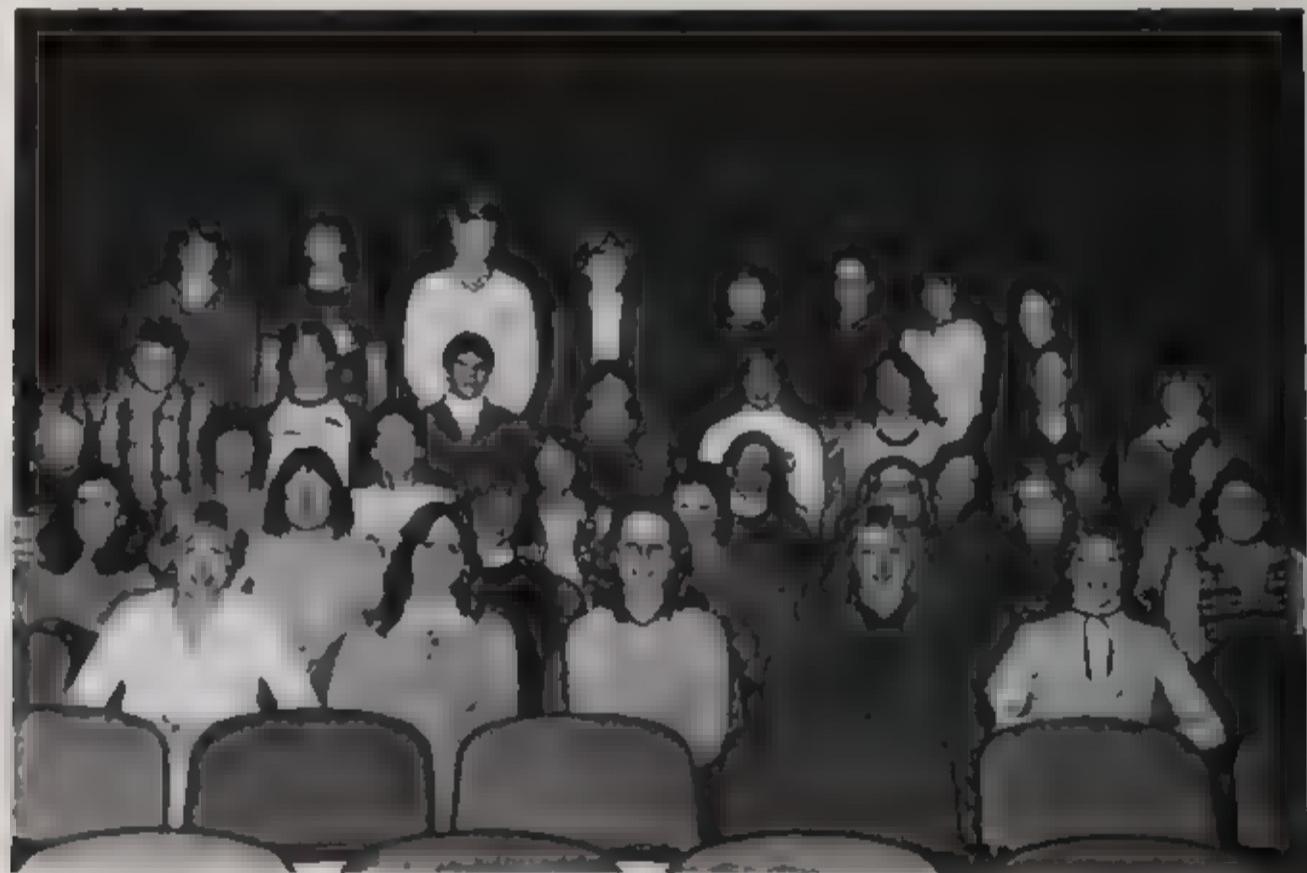

According to Scott, "The goals (to represent students and get them involved) were forgotten.

After electing a new Vice-President, Karen Brevick, the rest of the year's activities ran smoothly.

Parlez-vous Francias Inside Moves For '81

The French Club ended its second year at HHS with the closing of the school year.

Members gathered to construct a monster reminiscent of a Chinese dragon for Homecoming, while trying to promote the sale of T-shirts.

Plans also included Christmas caroling at Regina Residence, cooking a French dinner, eating at The Magic Pan Restaurant and building a snow sculpture for Sno-Week.

What do we have here? A team disguised as a club. Yes, the Chess Club really is the HHS chess team.

Members of the team participated after school in chess matches against other schools.

Again, they had a very exciting year, finishing the season with an 8-2 record.

With years of experience under their belts, the team looked like a favorite to place in the top three in the state.

AFS exchange student from Honduras, Walter Argueta replied, "If you have the chance to apply for AFS, do it. You will learn a lot. The people of Hastings have been really nice and I have met people I never thought I would."

Actually AFS, American Field Service, is a program to bring together people from different countries and different cultures.

The Hastings AFS chapter had its share of fun and work. The fun was a Christmas party and a swimming party at the high school.

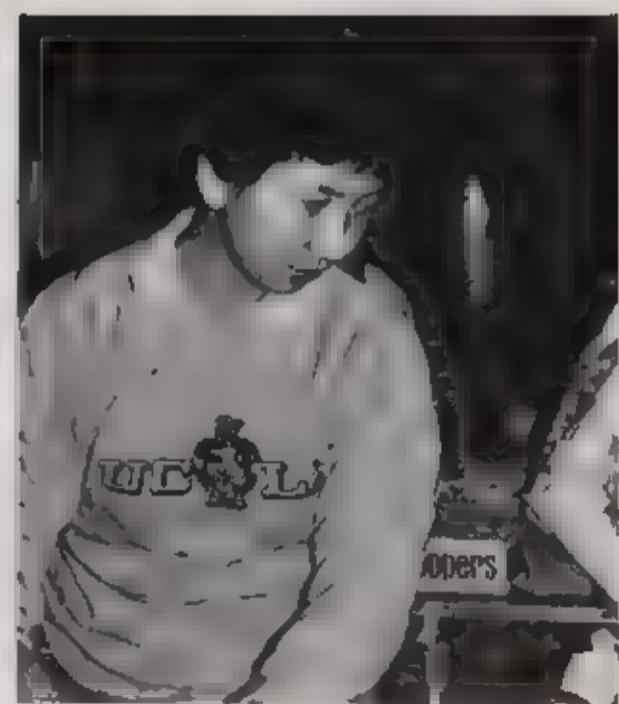

The work was selling concessions at football and basketball games and their fundraiser, the Donkey Basketball Game.

AFS President Greg McNamara commented, "The majority of the kids are active with a lot of working together."

A Dramatic Effort

" . . . there's a love and a bond among theatre people that's just not there in any other profession. It's like a family."

—unknown

De Berg, an active Drama Club member agrees, "Everyone in Drama Club is close!" "The purpose of the Hastings Drama Club is to foster appreciation and involvement in drama oriented activities," stated Advisor Ms. Olson.

Andy Turngren strengthened this by saying "Drama Club is definitely a 'group effort'."

Drama Club sponsored the Kiss-O-Grams on Valentines Day, had their annual banquet and traveled to area theatres, such as the Guthrie.

Their combined efforts produced three plays this year. A melodrama was the fall production. The winter play was a serious drama. A musical was presented in the spring.

Art Thou Crafty?

When asked why he started the Art Club, Mr. Zotalis answered, "to build up the art program and show its importance at HHS!"

The Art Club members worked on individual art projects covering material not included in class.

Also, members did murals and went on field trips. These trips included art museums.

The Sound of Music?

It's hard for students to go through their school year, without seeing our HHS band in one form or another.

They played at football games in the fall, basketball games and wrestling meets in the winter.

Frequently, the band and their parents were the only form of "fans" present at such events.

When someone says that they saw the Majorettes, what did they mean? The Majorettes consisted of the color guard, twirlers, majorettes and big flag.

The Majorettes tried out in the Spring of 1980. Ms. Charlson, advisor, decided who became a majorette.

These girls performed during football games, marched in parades and demonstrated their talent at band concerts.

During the first semester the Majorettes met during third hour with the band. Ms. Charlson said, "The Majorettes work as a whole with the band."

Legs in Motion

The Raiderettes are the leg kicking, hand clapping, dancing girls of HHS.

These girls represented all three grades and were chosen at a fall try-out by a panel of judges. The Raiderettes performed at basketball games and pep fests.

They practiced all year on Monday nights and Thursdays after school.

Each performance required a new routine, and the girls developed their own. These girls also had to make their own costumes.

WARMING UP BEFORE performing at a basketball game are Dawn Brekken, Amy Stevens, Jeanne Eggert, Kate McNeary, Margaret Scully, Jill Schneider and Michaela Price

NEW ROUTINES REQUIRE lots of practice to perfect the timing. A Monday night practice had Sue Langlais and Michaela Price working on line moves.

1981 Future Homemakers Farmers of Tomorrow

Hastings FHA President, Janean Dobias, stated about this years club, "It grew quite a bit at the junior level."

The club, which has been in existence since 1945, has a long list of accomplishments.

Eight years in a row students from the Hastings Chapter, have been elected District officers.

In 1980 the club received a special plaque for raising the most money for Camp Courage and for the handicapped.

This year they planned many activities. They were in The Homecoming Parade, attended District meetings, had an overnight encounter at school, and even got gifts together for the underprivileged kids in Hastings.

OEA Always Active

OEA ran on a busy schedule this year. At their October conference meeting, they planned their agenda for the year.

One fundraiser was selling concessions at the football games. Some activities were visiting the elderly, preparing for the opening of a school supply store, and the employer-employee banquet.

The highlight of each year is visiting the regional conference in February.

HHS members were selected to compete against other regional OEA members.

A one time contestant, Nancy Flanegan, said of OEA, "This club prepares you for office work, while teaching leadership."

Learning a Trade

During the school year, you saw students leaving after 4th hour, to go to their jobs. Many were students in VICA.

Unlike DECA or OEA, VICA students were learning to become food handlers, film processors, Hospital aides, etc.

This was done through classroom time and job experience, where better working and listening habits, as well as a better attitude, were stressed and graded on.

Grades and jobs aren't all VICA is concerned with. They also planned fundraisers and held a business luncheon meeting.

ASSISTING STUDENTS is part of Advisor, Fred Glade's responsibility, as he helps Tom Ohlhauser with his assignment.

DECA Club

DECA members saw the end of both the school year, and the end of a hectic schedule.

Planned activities included such things as, selling items from a catalog and sponsoring a Thanksgiving dinner for an area family.

At the same time, they didn't forget their main purpose. This according to Advisor, Scot Bigalke, "Is to develop future leaders for marketing and distribution."

This was done through their participation in local, state and regional competition in marketing.

INSTRUCTING STUDENTS, DECA Advisor Scot Bigalke demonstrated how to use the cash register to Shari Held, Terri Wood and Bill Kimmes

SPORTS

Athletes should be proud! The 1980-81 Fall and Winter sports season has been completed.

As the summer came to an end, the beginning of a new year of sports would begin. And it did! The accomplishments were tremendous. With the new beginning of the girls soccer team.

The girls swimming team placing high in the conference again. But best of all, for the second straight year, the team represented Hastings at State Girls' Tennis.

But with the accomplishments there must be disappointments and let downs. Time ran out on both Volleyball and Football teams. Getting close, but never close enough.

The heartbreaker of them all, boys soccer. In the first regional game, second overtime, a foul was called, (good or not ask Saatz). A penalty shot was awarded. Raiders came up short-handed.

No more than one week later the Winter sports began. But winter didn't seem to come for the cross country ski team, although they did survive. Don Miller brought the wrestlers to their first lone conference championship ever. At state, they had four individual representatives.

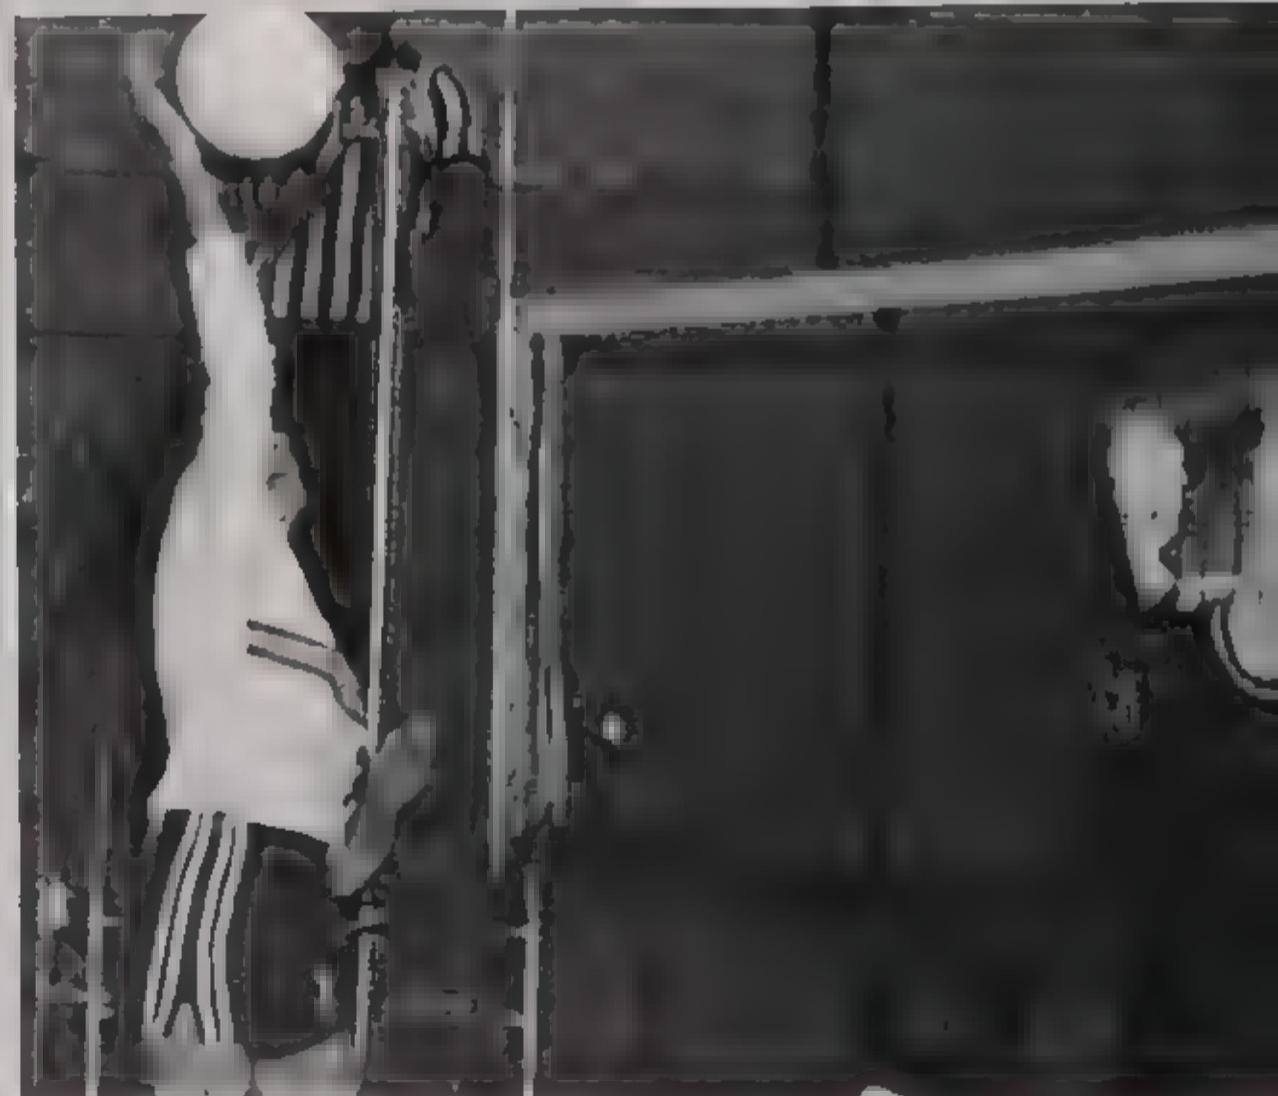

Girls ski team also went to State as they placed first in their region. Boys came close taking third in their region, but they're not without a representative, Carl Dabruzzi and John Haugen took on that responsibility, placing high in the standings.

A young girls Gymnastics team had a fine year. A newly coached girls basketball team finally started to get it together at the end of their season.

Swimming and hockey teams had a slightly rough year. But managed to pull out a couple victories from their tough conference opponents. Boys basketball team had an average year, and were scouted frequently.

The dedication and hard work of each sport came to an end. Some hoped it could be done over again, but it can only be a memory.

WARMING UP on the uneven bars, Judy Weappa, prepares for her routine. Judy was co-captain of gymnastics.

WITH A STRONG EFFORT, Sue Groskroph sets up to spike the ball over the net. Hastings won over White Bear Lake 2-1.

Time Runs Out on Gridders

While the seconds slowly ran out of each game the Raiders football team always seemed to come up on the short end of their first three games played.

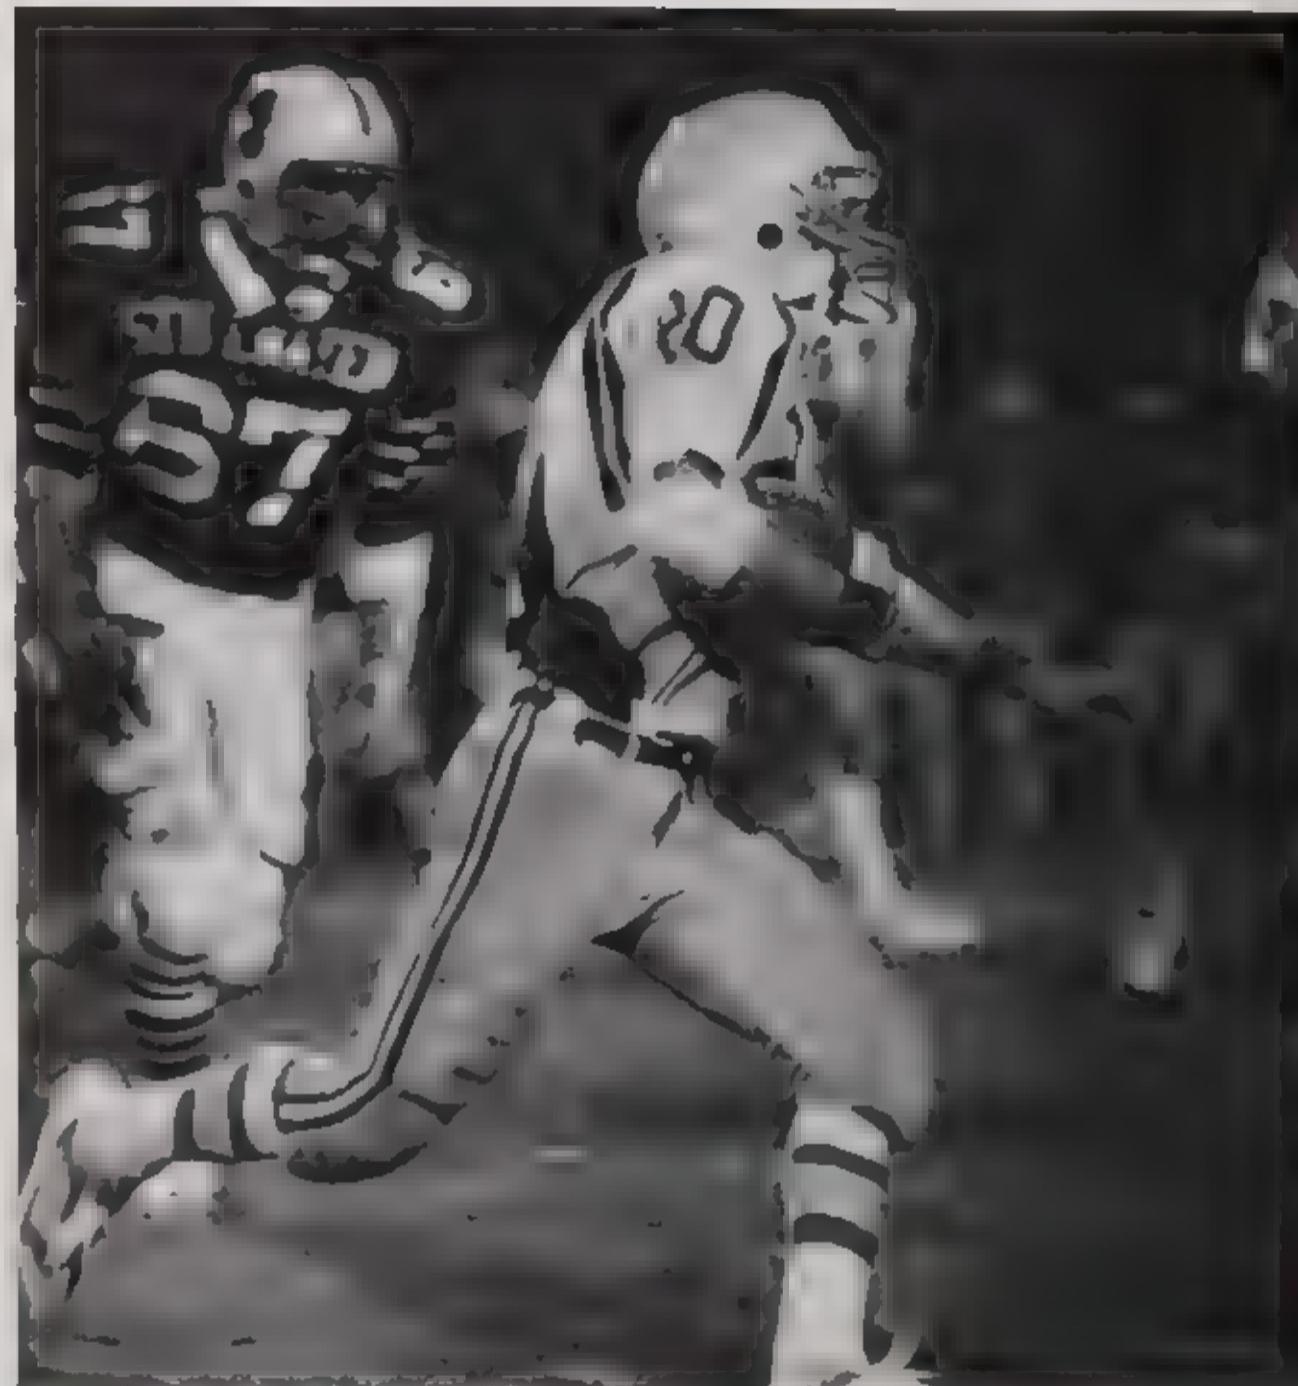

Coach Terry Hartman said after Hastings lost its opener to Stillwater, "I don't know if they ever rebounded from that game."

Statistically the Raiders always outplayed their opponents but stats don't show up on the scoreboard.

As the season went on the Raiders improved their style but unfortunately they were too late to gain a playoff spot.

The boy's soccer team has not always been known as a dominating team in Hastings' sports. But this year things proved to be different.

The Raider Kickers were very, very consistent. For every game they played equally well, if not better. They had the title of having the best defense in the conference.

Senior John Symrski stated, "Scott Fritze was outstanding and added a big part to our defense."

The team not only had a good defense, but also had the ability to put the ball into their opponents net.

That left the Raiders with plenty of goals, which were lead by Scott Stepan and John Zuzek (team captain). They displayed great leadership during offensive and defensive play.

This gave the Raiders prestige throughout the conference.

A New Beginning at H.H.S.

As a baby learns to walk, a soccer player learns to handle herself, and the ball with much more poise and skill than when she did at the beginning of the season.

When is the beginning? For the girls soccer team, it all started this fall. You can say that's another step forward for women's sports at HHS. Women's sports have been a part of athletics at HHS for a number of years.

Unfortunately, girls soccer hasn't. To sum it all up, tri-captain Julie Doyle proclaims, "Experience always helps!" There's no doubt that this is true. Statistics do prove that in the close ones, the experienced teams seem to win.

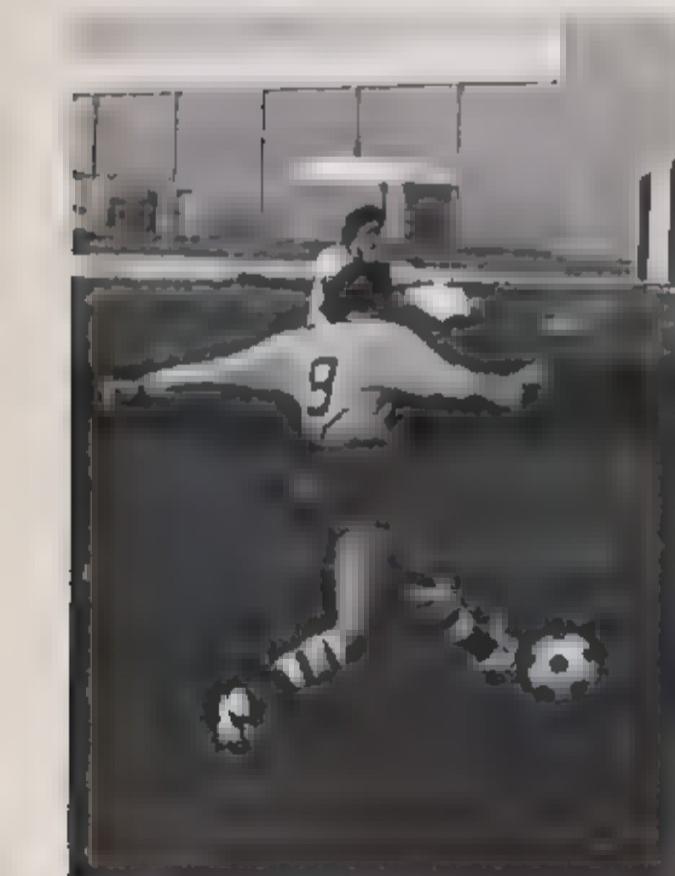

Unfortunately it was true for the Kickers this year, with their 3 win, 7 loss, 2 tie record.

EXECUTING PERFECT STYLE, Junior Dona Saatzer kicks the ball out of scoring range. Dona is a fullback on the varsity team

When the 1980 girls vollerball season began the Hastings Raiders were on the top of the conference charts. Nervous apprehension was a common emotion displayed by opponents when they found out they were to play the Hastings Girls Volleyball team.

But this emotion would seem to turn into pure psych as time after time Hastings opponents would just slide by the always tough Raider squad.

To sum it all up, Senior Co-captain Mary Jo Kranz stated, "The pressure would seem to get the best of us in the close ones."

That may have been true for the close ones, but when the Raiders put their minds to winning, they won big!

There was definitely two sides to this team which was reflected by their record of 4 wins and 5 loses.

Senior All-Conference Winner, Kim Busch thought, "For some, it may have been a heart-breaking season. But deep down I don't think any one player can ever regret it."

Swimmers Stay Afloat

For the past four years the girls swim team has been very highly respected. This year didn't seem to change. They were second in the conference, with an 8-1 record just behind Stillwater.

They were defeated by Stillwater with a score of 82-90. What makes the swimmers consistency good year after year? The rowdiness adds to the team spirit and lets off feelings of enthusiasm to keep their record going.

Jane Nesbitt, adds, "We worked hard and were very dedicated to the sport. We took workouts seriously which resulted in a team at the peak of being in shape."

In performing all the different strokes their best proved to be relays, the back stroke and the fly.

Runners Set the Pace

As the season came to an end, the Hastings Cross Country team finished where they expected to—in the middle of the conference.

"The seniors were the strong point of the team," stated Paul Langenfeld. How well they ran was usually the way the meet turned out.

The only way to win is to practice, and practice can get pretty tough. That's why it takes a special kind of person to run cross country. You really have to love it... and the Raider runners obviously did.

This years team was very stable, with the exception of 2 injuries on the girls team. Vicki Jung was out with pulled ligaments and Jo Harren was out with tendonitis. Although they were a big part of the team, the others filled in well.

Leah Tammens, a 9th grader, moved in to finish 16th in the conference and led the girls team.

Senior Kevin Strop placed 17th at the boy's conference meet to carry the Raiders.

Netters Take 4th in State

While other teams are still growing, the Girls Tennis team has hit their peak. For the second year in a row, they rallied their way to state.

What brought them through? Margaret Endres says, "Team-work played an important part. We depended heavily on each other. If one had a bad day someone else would always fill in."

Tennis is a very mental game. You need confidence to win, along with determination as shown by Senior Co-Captain Ann Weber. Another asset to the team was 3rd singles Colleen McNeary and 1st doubles Jill Magnuson and Jill Munson. The girls rallied their way to fourth in the state.

Average is the word to describe this year's boys basketball season. They had a conference record of 6-7. Craig Kilborn stated, "It's been an up and down season, not quite what we wanted."

Craig led the conference in scoring, with a 26.4 game average. He also led in rebounding with a 15.2 per game.

The season ended with the Varsity graduating, leaving HHS with an inexperienced team for next year.

New Coach, New Approach

New coaches seemed to be the new fad in HHS. For the girls basketball team it was definitely that. As three new faces showed at the head of each of the three teams. The Head Coach being Mary Bartley.

What has this coach brought to the girls team? Senior Tri-Captain Ann Weber says, "She made it more of a team effort, although she greatly stressed individual moves toward the basket."

Jr. Center Joan Dobbelaere stated, "She helped bring fresh, new ideas to our team, which in turn helped me to stay tough under the boards. She never quit. It seemed to rub-off."

Although all this good came flowing in, the girlnetters had a frustrating start. Losing the first seven conference games.

Then as all teams in time seem to do, each player learned to compliment another's style of play, which turned things around with three conference victories. Their final conference record was 5-9.

Pucksters Slip on Ice

"Overall, it was a disappointing season," commented hockey coach Jeff Shelstad. "I was hoping for a 500 season," he added. The Raider icemen had a conference record of 5-11, and lost their first game in region to a tough St. Paul Academy team by a score of 3-2.

The team had its ups and downs with players being lost along the way due to injuries. Some serious, some not.

The high points of the Raiders' season was the upset of second ranked Mariner Dolphins. The loss of the Stillwater Ponies in overtime was heartbreaking.

"I think the Stillwater game was one of our best efforts," commented tri-captain John Smyrski. Although the Raiders didn't have that good of a season, each person put out a great individual effort.

Grapplers Pin Conference

"Another One Bites the Dust" would have been a very appropriate theme song for this year's wrestlers.

The team literally walked through their conference, as team after team fell to their knees under the merciless wrath of Miller wrestlers. The team polished off their season with an impressive 13-1 overall record, going undefeated in conference action.

When asked to comment on the year, Coach Miller replied, "It went by rapidly because it was fun winning; winning makes the year go by fast."

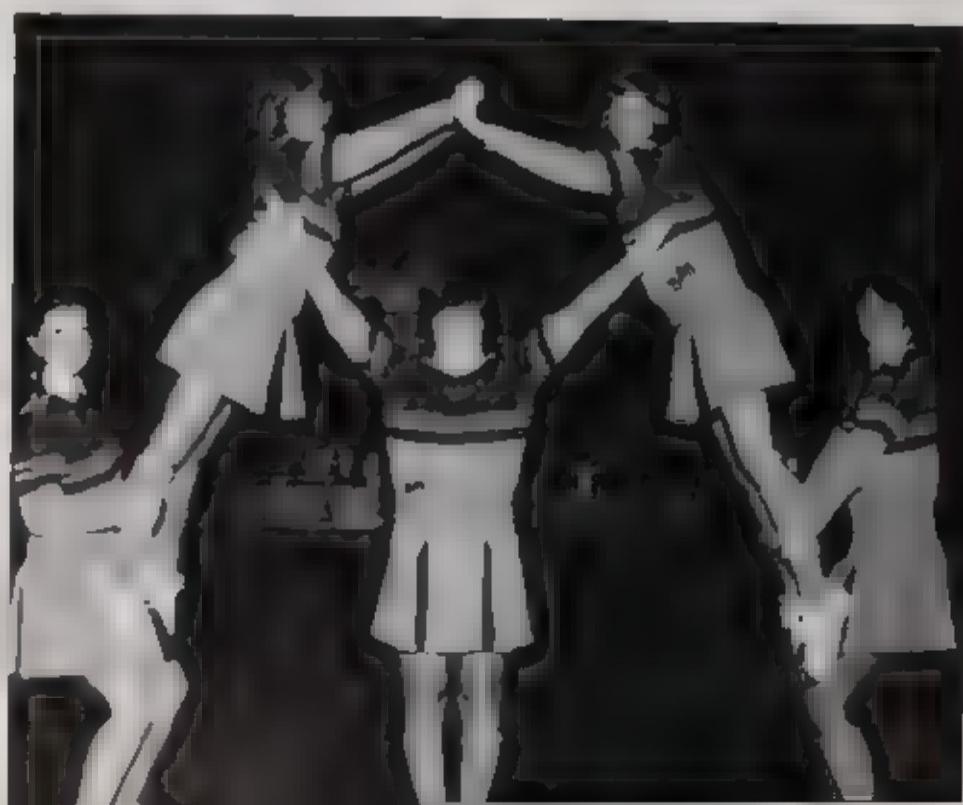

After clinching the conference title for the first time ever, the team went on to the regional tourney and beat South St. Paul 30-18, but then lost to Johnson by a score of 26-20.

Seniors Mark Beskau, Brent and Bruce Lohmann and sophomore Tom Sieh went on to the state individual tournament.

UTILIZING AN effective 2 on 1, senior Brent Lohmann keeps his opponent in place. Brent wrestled in the 185 lb. weight class.

WITH A HEAD LOCK, senior Bob Sieh applies heavy pressure for a pin. Bob wrestled in the 155 lb. weight class.

IN THE GRIP of his opponent, senior Dean Weber attempted a one point escape. Dean wrestled in the 138 lb. weight class.

As fall stayed far into October, the Hastings Slalom Ski Team began their first days of practice. Those practices consisted of stretching, running, and muscle-building exercises.

Although the snow never seemed to come, it somehow got on the hills of Welch Village. The skiers got into the swing of things quickly, as both the boys and girls had a 6-1 conference record.

For the most part, Laura Lunde commented, "When our best racers had bad days we had to make a team effort."

This method seemed to work well, for the girls took 1st in regional competition, while boys took 3rd.

For the cross country skiers, snow couldn't be created, but patient people were. After a while snow began to fall and the season was under way.

Tammi Hatten added: "This wait really didn't affect the season." The teams put out an all out effort, which should make them proud.

TAKING LONG and easy strides, Senior Tom Robinette has a satisfied look as he stays in the lead

Young Team Matures Fast

Experience is one of the biggest assets there is to a sports' team. But it did not seem to be that way for girls' gymnastics. Juniors were the upper classmen on this young team, as they led them on to a very respectable 7-2 conference record.

Co-captain Lori Fox says, "The potential that we had to work together was the key to winning."

"The floor and the vault were the team's best areas," thought Sophomore Sue Litschke. Although Sue was just a sophomore, she advanced on to the sub regions along with three of her teammates, and later on to state where she did very well.

The team performed excellent this year, but WATCH OUT NEXT YEAR!!

AS A PART of Lori Fox's routine, a slight pause to move from bar to bar causes her no problems at all

ONE OF THE MORE difficult moves on the beam, Dona Saatzer, seems to have no trouble with her cartwheel

AT THE END of her floor exercise Sophomore Sue Litschke, adds a little humor with this pose

DURING HER BEAM routine, co-captain Judy Weappa exhibits a hand stand

PERFORMING A GRACEFUL MOVE, Junior Marnie Welshons, ended her floor exercise with a perfect finale

WITH A LOOK of determination, Kevin Corbett strives to get his place in the back-stroke race

PERFORMING A FRONT dive with a half twist during a practice, was Senior Kevin Corbett

A RAIDER DIVER finished off a beautiful dive. Divers strive to make their splash into the pool as small as possible

DURING A TYPICAL hard practice, the boys swim team took some time out to show us how well they make aquatic pyramids

Not Enough Depth

Lack of depth may have been a key factor in the season's turnout for the Boys Swim Team. The team was small this year, due to the loss of last year's seniors and the lack of interest.

According to senior, "big Lou" Plevell, the team's unity kept them together.

They all worked hard and the team work seemed to be present. The breast stroke was their strongest stroke this year.

There is always room for improvement, but as you put your best effort forward, you've got nothing to lose.

ADS

The publishing of a yearbook in the last few years has caused great concerns for the yearbook staff, the advisor and the school administration, as well as the student body. The cost of the yearbook has risen from $9 in 1979 to $16 in 1981.

These costs reflect what has happened to our economy—the rise in price of gasoline, concert tickets and clothing, just to name a few.

With all these costs coming back to the yearbook, the need for selling ads has become a necessity. This year the staff has set aside 11 pages for ads.

The community has responded well in their support of the yearbook, in a time when they also are in a pinch for money. We thank the community for their financial support.

A PART OF Snow Week activities was decorating the hall windows. Sophomore Kevin DiLorenzo helps Sophomore Nancy Crook up to finish her part

A large black and white portrait of a woman, Kathy Zeien. She is seated, facing the camera with a slight smile. She has long, dark hair and is wearing a dark, patterned dress. The background is dark and textured, possibly a wall or a window. The overall mood is intimate and focused on the subject.

Many thanks to:
HHS Staff for assistance and help
Mr. McGee Studio for the photograph & developing
The Hastings Star Gazette

And especially to my wife, Bronquita, for long hours spent lin-

as you having Dr hair (Asth) are going to have a graduate in the some pretty & sweet one always are. I'll be there
Good luck in touch
Keep in touch
P.S. We will have to party when we parents have cards.

Barb,
I really don't know you very well, but your pleasant personality brightened up that boing social class.
good luck in the future.
Have a great summer! '81
friends,
Mary Murphy

Barb,
a nice person
I met you once good story you told me about your your son and the
you can do it

Barb,
I'm glad that
we're still friends fun times. You've been easy talk to and I love up for it. We have to get together this summer and go to the beach and of course the parties It's going to be one crazy summer! Be sure come down to stand next year to visit and party good luck in whatever you decide to do!
Sincerely
Lily Letter S

Barb.
What can I say but chores
all had good times down there with the crazy people who we belong with. Hope to see you around with a good luck in life. We still have to go rollerskating. Keep in touch
Rita (Schiff's) You -

I Barb,
I'm glad I got your a great gift up the good spirit. Don't lose much energy. I'm sure to know the memories will be of to college soon take keep in the good looks and personality.

for my son. They are not too busy with work or play
but may come down not bad but in my mind

I'm really glad that I met you this year at Vo-ted. Class would have been really boring without you. I'm really gonna miss you next year when I move so we'll have to get together and party. Class always keep in touch, I'll give you my address. Good luck in the future, I know you can do whatever you want!

Love always,
Lia Erdman

"1981"

Barb,
I'm really glad you were in Vo-ted
with me cuz your laugh
sure livened the class up.
We'll have to get together and go have a few over at Picay, I wish you the best in whatever you do. Have a great summer, but take care,
Father D. hives.

Hi Barb!
Oh NO! Welcome b-day
a long way from B' day parties to Keggers. You're a neat person with a sensitive heart. I wish the best of luck or car for you. Take always of yourself a touch of boy.
of stay or friend of you
the best love &
Beats
(Bonta)
